U.S. Fires Explorer XII

New Scientific Space Traveler Eyes Solar Data

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A new "windmill" scientific payload raced through the vastness of space today, gathering data on the relation between magnetic fields and radiation streaming from the sun. Named Explorer XII, the package is expected to tell scientists more clearly than ever before how solar radiation influences conditions on earth and how great a hazard it is to manned space travel. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration was reluctant today to label the space messenger a satellite, but there was every indication it was in successful orbit after its launching from this rocket center Tuesday night. "Yes, I think we have an orbit," reported Dr. John W. Townsend of NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center. But because an extremely elliptical orbit was sought, Townsend said it may be as long as 62 hours after launch before it can be definitely confirmed. Explorer XII was aimed for a wide-swinging course designed to take it as far out as 54,000 miles from earth and bring it back to within 170 miles at the low point. Each pass around the world would take 31 hours, compared to a normal satellite circuit of about two hours.

$75,000 Loss Set In Weirton Blaze

WEIRTON—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a large building housing five business establishments in downtown Weirton Tuesday night. Four firemen were injured in fighting the blaze in the 3100 block of Main St. Damage was estimated at $75,000. The blaze followed by one week a $200,000 fire at the Scott Lumber Co. Damaged in last night's blaze were the Young Democrats' Club, Twin City Grill, Modern Home Appliance Co., Meyer's Drugstore and the Hollidays Cove Baker. Several empty apartments on the second floors of the business places also were damaged. Firemen probed the ruins today searching for the cause. Reports that an explosion had occurred just prior to the start of the blaze could not be confirmed. However, it was theorized that a can of heavy grease in the rear of the building had exploded from the heat of a small fire, but firemen did not confirm this.

More Space Possible

Bumper-To-Bumper Plan Of Parking Will Be Tried

Seeking a more even flow of traffic over city streets, Council has given informal approval to a new parking plan that will eliminate much of the maneuvering needed for getting in and out of metered spaces. Termed bumper-to-bumper "Hollywood" parking, the new plan will be tried as an experiment at first until public opinion decides whether or not it should be tried on a larger scale or permanently in East Liverpool. Work began today on a section of 5th St. between Market St. and Crook Alley where the new plan will be tested, Councilman Don Hancock of the street committee and Safety Service Director Lee Copenhaver said. They explained that in the new system, a parking motorist will be guaranteed eight feet of space to maneuver, thereby eliminating much of the time needed to pull in and out of spaces in congested areas. Hancock explained that two cars are pulled bumper to bumper. There will be an eight-foot space in front of the first auto, and another eight-foot space behind the second car. This compares with the "close shave" parking plan of the present that sometimes requires much dexterity and skillful maneuvering of the driver to get in and out without bumping autos parked ahead and in back. "Drivers can pull out and in more easily, and there should be no traffic tie-ups as under the present plan," Hancock said. Two parking meters will be located side-by-side in the experimental plan. Workmen today began re-locating the meters in the experimental section and painting the spaces. The eight-foot spaces to be used for maneuvering only will be blocked off in white paint, and bisected with a painted X. Hancock explained that the new plan will not require additional parking meters and will not cut (Turn to PARKING, Page 14)

No New Talks Slated In Strike At Kenmar

EAST PALESTINE — A strike by 126 members of the United Construction Workers local at the Kenmar Manufacturing Co. furniture plant was in its second day today with no new negotiations scheduled. The employees began picketing Tuesday with the expiration of the former contract, refusing to accept a company request to cut wages to help meet an economic squeeze from Southern competitors.

Other Steps Also Hinted In Blockade

President, Rusk Talk At Breakfast On Berlin Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France are drafting a direct protest to Moscow against East Germany's closing of the border between East and West Berlin to cut off the flight of refugees from communism. Western diplomats said the protest, following formal complaints made in Berlin Tuesday, will go to the Kremlin in the very near future, on a government-to-government level. Representatives of the three Western powers and West Germany were to meet at the State Department today to work on the draft and to continue efforts to develop other measures which may be taken because of the refugee blockade.

Progress on development of the countermeasures, reported to include economic sanctions against East Germany, was slower than had been expected when the work started Monday. Although a wide range of countermeasures were under consideration, top U.S. officials said no strong steps will be taken at this time because the blockade applies to the Communist East rather than to West Berlin. President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk arranged a breakfast conference at the White House early today and though the purpose was not announced, it was assumed they intended to review the Berlin crisis.

The Allied diplomatic planning group was to meet with Asst. Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler later in the morning. This same planning committee met late Tuesday with Kohler and West German Ambassador Wilhelm G. Grewe said afterward that "there will be measures" to deal with the situation created by the crack-down on refugees. The Berlin situation was discussed at length by several top administration policy makers in a two-day foreign policy briefing conference for about 700 radio and newspaper editors which ended at the State Department Tuesday. The list of speakers included Rusk and Kennedy, but the President spoke "off the record," and nothing any of the officials said could be attributed to them under the rules of the conference.

There is little, if any, hope within the administration that Moscow will change its position. Accordingly, the plan is to dramatize this last-chance rejection when the U.S. General Assembly meets in September. The U.N. timetable usually keeps it in session until December. Kennedy is represented as reluctant to announce any resumption of tests while the international organization remains in session. There is the additional factor in this reported decision that it would take a couple of months to prepare a test shot if a presidential go-ahead is given.

Smiths Ferry Child Struck

Boy Hit By Auto Crossing Highway

A 20-month-old Smiths Ferry R. D. 1 boy received a possible fracture skull and severe lacerations of the face and head when hit in front of his home by a Midland motorist Tuesday at 8:50 p. m. Michael Allen Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodard Brown of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, is in children's hospital at Pittsburgh. He was transferred after he was taken to Rochester General Hospital by Bernard Zlatovich, Ohio Township constable. He was admitted at Rochester at 9:10 p. m. The Rochester barracks of the Pennsylvania State police investigated and said a car driven by Mrs. Margaret Hanley, 43, of 612 Ohio Ave., Midland, was traveling north on 168 when the boy, who was along the right berm of the road, apparently started to cross. The accident occurred about six miles north of Midland. Mike Haydin, Ohio Township police officer, assisted police.

Direct Complaint To Kremlin

West Will Protest To Moscow On Closing Of Berlin Border

President's Seen Against '61 A-Tests

Reported Opposing Resumption Now Despite Red Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is reported to have decided against any resumption of nuclear testing this year, regardless of whether the Russians demonstrate at Geneva they want no foolproof agreement. The President's position, as outlined to congressional leaders, is that the United States should do nothing to prejudice the case it expects to make in the United Nations that the West is ready to accept a self-enforcing ban while the Russians insist on an inspection veto. Kennedy is sending his chief negotiator, Arthur H. Dean, back to Geneva next week to find out if the Soviet Union is still sticking to its troika demand for unanimous three-power inspection control. If they are, he said, Dean will come home quickly. There is little, if any, hope within the administration that Moscow will change its position. Accordingly, the plan is to dramatize this last-chance rejection when the U.S. General Assembly meets in September. The U.N. timetable usually keeps it in session until December. Kennedy is represented as reluctant to announce any resumption of tests while the international organization remains in session. There is the additional factor in this reported decision that it would take a couple of months to prepare a test shot if a presidential go-ahead is given.

Wishing Well Will Launch Fund Drive

A "Wishing Well" for collection of contributions to the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council will be set up on E. 5th St. in front of Penney's Store Thursday through Saturday and next week, officials of the campaign announced today. The annual drive for funds by the council, which sponsors three classes for retarded children at the former Elkton School, will be launched under the direction of Atty. Warren Bettis of Salineville, local representative. The local drive is headed by Richard Emmerling and Mrs. Ruth Steinmetz, and contributions may be mailed to him at the First National Bank. William Hixcox of Lisbon is the assistant county chairman. The council was organized in 1954 to provide education facilities for retarded youngsters. Three former classes at East Liverpool, Lisbon and Salem were consolidated into a centralized school at Elkton. The goal for the drive is $15,000. Bettis said today, providing funds to equip the school and pay needed operational expenses. The funds collected in the campaign (Turn to DRIVE, Page 13)

Biggest Interference Since Crisis

Reds Clamp More Travel Curbs On East Berliners

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists cut down on already limited travel by their own citizens to Western Germany today. It was their most vigorous interference with traffic between the two Germanys since Berlin's new crisis began. The latest Berlin trouble was generated Sunday by barricades erected against East Berliners going into West Berlin and against West Berliners going east unless they get special permits. Today the campdown was extended between Berlin to the borders between East and West Germany. West German guards all along the border said the arrival of East Germans at crossing points practically stopped. Freight trains and trucks were permitted to travel in both directions as before, and Westerners going into East Germany were allowed through as long as their papers were in order. But East Germans on west-bound trains were ordered off at the West German border, even though they had visas and permits issued by Communist authorities. At Helmstedt, chief rail and highway crossing near the middle of the 935-mile border, no East German cars were allowed through after midnight. No East Germans were on trains crossing the Bavarian border. The East German government made no announcement concerning the situation. But it threatened Tuesday to put on another blockade like that in 1948-49 if West Germany cuts off East German trade in reprisal for the travel restrictions in Berlin.

Army Alerts 111 Reserve Units For Call

Air Force To Add 28,000 As Part Of Build-Up Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is advising 111 Reserve units, none of them of division size, that they may be called to duty as part of the build-up of U. S. conventional forces for meeting any trouble over Berlin. Most of them probably will be support-type outfits, although there may be some combat units. This alert plan, similar to one announced recently by the Air Force for 71 Air National Guard and Reserve units, followed closely other moves in manpower expansion by the Air Force and Navy. The Air Force announced Tuesday that it is aiming at adding about 28,000 men to its strength by asking volunteers to continue on duty after reaching normal active duty termination, and by holding others in service if there aren't enough volunteers. There seemed to be no high hope that the full 28,000 requirement would be met by volunteers. The Navy announced Monday that it will hold on duty 26,800 men whose service otherwise would end before next June 30. Formal announcement of the Army plan apparently was arranged for an afternoon news conference today by Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr. He also may discuss more precisely how the Army will use the manpower increase and other authority granted by Congress in line with recommendations made by the Defense Department. So far the Army has made no announcement concerning call-up of either National Guard or Reserve units. Initially, its attention has been turned primarily to preparing for conversion of three training divisions into combat outfits, to bring total combat divisional strength to 17. The guess was that if the Army decided it needed to tap Reserve sources for quickly supplying trained units with specially needed skills, it would look for service and support outfits. Man Hurt On Roof Firemen from the Central station were called with the aerial ladder about noon to remove an injured man from the roof of the Keys Co., 406 Market St. He had been working on the roof and apparently fell to a lower level, apparently receiving a broken leg. He was not identified immediately.

County Board Acts

Franklin Local Becomes Part Of Southern District

The Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night added Franklin Local to the Southern Local School District, turning down a petition from Franklin parents to have its school area merged with Carroll County districts. Franklin Local is only an eight-year district with no high school. Its students had been attending Salineville High School. Southern Local consists of Wayne, No. 16, Highlandtown and Salineville schools. The board also created a new Board of Education for the expanded district, consisting of J. B. Ferguson and Martin Adams of the Salineville district, John Ewing of Wayne District, Jack Stewart of No. 16 and Jac Dangelo of Franklin. The board thus accepted the recommendation of the Ohio University's survey report, which the State Board of Education authorized. The survey recommended that Franklin be placed in the Southern Local District. The vote of the county board to create the new district was unanimous at its meeting in Lisbon. He said the four district proposed a new high school near Glade's Run Church in Carroll County and that each of the districts would have its own grade school with only about six miles from each to the center of the district. He said this would make an ideal rural district with each district being almost equal in size. They would have a high school enrollment of 240 by the second year of operation. He said 70 per cent of the residents of the Franklin District were in favor of this consolidation, although no such action has been (Turn to MERGER, Page 14)

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims Ex-Potter, 71

Arthur (Dogy) Marshall of Sherwood Ave., LaCroft, a retired potter, died this morning at 10:30 at his home following an illness of five years. He was 71.

He was born in Bellaire Feb. 5, 1890, and resided in this vicinity virtually his lifetime. He retired in 1955 from the Taylor Smith & Taylor Co. He was a member of the LaCroft Church of the Nazarene.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Georgia Virden Marshall, and two sons, Arthur C. Marshall and Larry Marshall, all at home; two sisters, Mrs. Florence Cross of East Liverpool and Mrs. Estella Decker of Parkersburg, and one grandchild.

Services will be held Friday at 3:30 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. Ray Banks, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Paul Darulla, pastor of the Wellsburg Nazarene Church. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening.

Mrs. Anna Burwell

Services will be held Friday for Mrs. Anna M. Burwell, 79, of Claysville, Pa., mother of Harry M. Burwell of East Liverpool, who died Tuesday morning at Washington (Pa.) Hospital after a brief illness.

Born at Corning, Ohio, Oct. 14, 1881, a daughter of Michael and Elizabeth Neely Flynn, she had resided at Claysville for 60 years.

She was a member of the United Presbyterian Church of Claysville and the Missionary Society. Her husband, Frank A. Burwell, died in 1933.

She is survived by another son, Wray Burwell of Claysville; five daughters, Mrs. Martha Wright and Mrs. Mary McGlumphy of Washington, Mrs. Helen Wright of Wellsburg, Mrs. Marie Kelps of Wheeling and Mrs. Mildred Santillo of Medina, N. Y.; a step-son, LeRoy Burwell of Brownsville; a step-daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Buchanan of El Dorado, Kan.; a sister, Mrs. Ella Kelly of Washington; a brother, John William Flynn of Washington, and 11 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 at the Brownlee Funeral Home at Claysville by the Rev. Arthur Day. Burial will be in Claysville Cemetery.

Friends may call tonight and Thursday at the funeral home.

Albert Edwards

Services for Albert Ross Edwards, 82, of Barnesville, brother of Mrs. Calvin Henthorne of East Liverpool, were held Tuesday afternoon at the Campbell Funeral Home at Barnesville. Burial was in Crestview Cemetery there.

He died Sunday morning at his home. He was born in Washington County Dec. 26, 1878, son of William W. Edwards and Birdie Edwards. He operated a plumbing and hardware store in Barnesville and was a member of the First Christian Church.

In addition to his sister, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mayme Edwards at home; three daughters, two sons, another sister, a brother, Chester C. Edwards of Imperial, a step-daughter and 13 grandchildren.

Nettie McConahey

Mrs. Nettie McConahey of Minerva, a native of Salineville, died Tuesday afternoon at the Crawford Nursing Home in Malvern. She was 94 and had been ill since May.

She was a member of the Minerva Presbyterian Church and the widow of John McConahey. She leaves two sons, Paul McConahey and Don McConahey, both of Minerva, and five grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Services will be held Friday at 1 p. m. at the Bartley Funeral Home in Minerva by the Rev. Milton Davis. Burial will be in Woodland Cemetery in Salineville.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Grace Thompson

Mrs. Grace Williams Thompson of Irish Ridge Rd., wife of Charles Thompson, died Tuesday at 11:30 p. m. at her home following a long illness. She was 58.

Mrs. Thompson was born in Williamstown, Ohio, Oct. 6, 1902. She resided in this area about 43 years. She attended the First Church of God.

In addition to her husband, she leaves two step-sons, James H. Williams of East Liverpool and Henry W. Williams of Rupert, Idaho, and two step-daughters, Mrs. Martha Quarterman of East Liverpool and Mrs. Sylvia Cehrs of Lisbon.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. Raymond E. Miller.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening.

Wayne Whitehead

EAST PALESTINE — Wayne Whitehead, 45, of State Line Rd. died this morning at 8:45 at a Pittsburgh Veterans Administration hospital, where he was taken Tuesday by ambulance.

A World War II veteran and former clayshop worker at the W. S. George Pottery Co., he had been ill for over a year.

He was born here Jan. 8, 1916, a son of George and Zella Gorby Whitehead, and was married to the former Mildred Cope of New Waterford.

He served in the Army over five years and was wounded in Germany.

Beside his widow, he is survived by two sons, James Whitehead and Kevin Whitehead at home; a daughter, Martha Whitehead at home; five brothers, Howard Whitehead, Willis Whitehead, Bernard Whitehead, Gene Whitehead and Audley Whitehead, all of East Palestine, and two sisters, Mrs. Florence Seiter and Mrs. Martha Libert, both of East Palestine.

The Oliver Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements which are incomplete.

Auxiliary Of Legion Aids Fund Benefits

Future fund-raising events were discussed at the meeting of the Columbiana County Council of American Legion Auxiliaries Tuesday night in Columbiana.

Mrs. Helen Thompson of Salineville, president, conducted business.

Refreshments were served by the social committee.

Five members each from the Glenmoor Post 736 and East End Post 374 attended.

A "hat auction" will feature the next meeting Sept. 19 at the Wellsville Post 70 home.

Firemen To Donate Fund To Boys League

Ohio Township volunteer firemen met Monday night and voted to give a donation to the Ohio Township Little League since the boys helped park cards at the firemen's carnival in June.

Improvements were reported for the fire truck and include the addition of an alternator and the purchase of a chemical extinguisher.

George Gailey Jr., president, presided for the meeting in the fire hall. Next meeting is Sept. 11.

The Fears Are Not Economic

Soviet First Deputy Mikoyan says the West is girding for war because it is afraid of economic competition with the Communist domain.

That is the sort of talk that makes the prospect of verbal negotiations with Moscow seem so futile. We do not mean the same things they mean, even though the same words may be used.

If the West appears to be girding for war, for instance, it is precisely because the East and West do not understand each other's words. There is an underlying suspicion on this side of the Iron Curtain that the only language the people on the other side understand is the language of threats and force.

And if the West is afraid of competition with the Communist world, it certainly is not on economic grounds.

THE BERLIN crisis illustrates both points. The emergency there, in its present form, would not exist if it were not for the utter failure of the East German regime to come close to the economic advances of the capitalist West German economy.

And since the Red method of operation is to meet such problems with force, the West has little alternative but to be prepared to meet force with force. Certainly the clock cannot be turned back on West Germany's economic recovery, even if anyone other than the Communists wanted to turn the clock back.

THE COMPARISON of the two economic systems is dramatized by the fact that thousands of East Germans who have fled to the West have been assimilated into its economy and there are still jobs for thousands more.

The attraction has been natural on a purely economic basis, because it is natural for a man to go where he can better himself in his work.

What the East German working man leaves behind him in his move to the West is the hated work-norm system.

The state decides what his production should be, both in quantity and quality. The state offers him the incentive of a bonus if he passes the standard, but he must be careful not to pass the standard too consistently. If he and his fellow workers go that far in striving for their incentive bonus, it will be taken from them by increasing the work-norm.

For doing the same amount of work, he will be cut back to his base pay.

It isn't hard to figure out that eventually a point must be reached when it will be impossible for a man to achieve the quality and quantity of work to entitle him to the incentive bonus.

IN SHORT, he will have been stripped of his incentive, and he will have played a role in the stripping because of his natural inclination to do better for himself.

Thus, despite the disruption in his personal life and the forfeiture of whatever nonportable goods he may have accumulated, it was worth it to him to move to an economic system that was based on incentive.

Typically, the Communist answer to this problem was not to improve its own economic system but to apply force to keep working men from making the move to a better one.

No one knows at this point what the eventual results of the border-closing will be, which is one of the reasons the West appears to be girding for war.

Not among the reasons is fear of economic competition. The West has nothing to fear on that score—the status of East and West Germany makes the record clear.

Newburgh Wins A Victory

Newburgh, N.Y., has chalked up what it considers its first tangible victory in its campaign to reform its welfare program. A man previously on relief rolls has found himself a job and asked to be removed from public support.

It came about because of a rule that relief recipients capable of working had to work. The city tried to find a job for the man in question, but he did not like what was offered.

So the city, under the rules, put him to work for the city, with his relief allotment counted as his pay. He lasted only half a day, according to the reports, and then found his own job and requested the cut off from relief.

As we said, Newburgh's officials deem this a victory. They said they are happy with the outcome.

Some other professional relief dispensers might take another view. They might feel it is unfair to put a welfare taker on the spot of having to go to work or lose his welfare.

But the fact the man has been able to find a job vindicates Newburgh's position. And this is the point of the Newburgh controversy that frequently has been overlooked as the arguments whistled around.

Newburgh had no intention of doing away with welfare, or of shirking its responsibility, as a society, to care for those who cannot care for themselves. This sort of welfare program has been around for centuries, either in individual or collective form.

Newburgh does believe that individuals, including relief recipients, have a responsibility to society. The responsibility may be fulfilled by preventing the birth of any more illegitimate children. It may be fulfilled by doing menial tasks for the society that pays the family bills. It may be fulfilled by spending relief checks only for those family or individual necessities of life that relief is supposed to cover.

Or it may be fulfilled by taking a job and getting off the relief rolls entirely.

This means refusing to make a career of relief reciprocity if one is able to pursue some other sort of career.

This Is Civilization?

If the metropolis of New York is the window through which the rest of the world views the United States, it is no wonder that some nations come up with a distorted image.

Much has been said about the fight of Gotham's policemen to protect themselves from the public they are supposed to protect. Continued reports of beatings, stabbings and mob attacks on patrolmen indicate no headway has been made toward correcting the situation.

The Once Over

("Ex-President Eisenhower has passed his first test to drive auto" — News item)

Inspector: This is a renewal, of course.

Ike: No. I've never driven an auto before.

Inspector: You mean there is any question whether a man who has crossed the channel, won a war and run the United States for eight years can run an auto?

Ike: On those jobs there were fewer problems at street corners.

Inspector: If you never drove an auto, didn't it make you unhappy?

Ike: No. Think of all the gasoline bills I avoided.

Inspector: How did you ever pass Hitler?

Ike: I had a chauffeur who was in a hurry to finish the war and get home.

Inspector: Do you know how to operate a car on a hill?

Ike: I was on a hill eight years in Washington and got by.

Inspector: What's the rule about making a left turn?

Ike: I have never made a left turn. Anything to the contrary is a political falsehood.

Inspector: What do you do when you suddenly encounter another autoist at a busy crossing?

Ike: I watch my language.

Inspector: Good. Now if you have a flat tire on the road, what do you do?

Ike: I wire Nixon.

Inspector: Nixon can't change a tire by telephone. I could flunk you on that and would if I weren't a Republican myself. One more question. Suppose you were driving through the center of Manhattan and you saw a crowd of photographers surrounding a man trying to cross a street on after-breakfast stroll. What would you do?

Ike: Listen, keep Harry Truman out of this!

Inspector: Do you know what to do after an accident?

The big news in New York now is the fight to save its schools from disaster. The chaos that has been creeping up on the educational system for years appears developed to the point of pushing the system to almost complete collapse.

Various names have been applied to the giant city in the past, such as "jungle" and "city of cave dwellers."

It does seem, indeed, that New York may be slipping away from civilization, or vice versa.

By H. I. Phillips

Ike: I ought to after the last election.

Inspector: What would you do if you were on open road and saw a canyon's edge, a river and a "dead end" sign just ahead?

Ike: I guess I would still call Jim Hagerty.

Switch Hitter—Hits To All Fields

The Russians Get Down To Earth

By Victor Riesel

Though deep in the heart of terror there was no terror in the hearts of West Berliners the Sunday night Major Titov's Vostok flashed over.

The free people rejected the awesome flying machine as a symbol of Soviet superiority, just as they and all the peoples of Europe have rejected Communist pie-in-the-sky political parties wherever there is a choice.

Here in Berlin, for example, the Communist Socialist Unity party is legal and it polls about 1.5 per cent of the free vote.

Throughout Europe, Communist parties have lost a total of one million members in the past seven years, according to the latest intelligence count. And in the democratic parliaments of Europe, the Communist parties have lost well over a total of 100 seats.

Such a trend already is noticeable in Africa — wherever men have a free choice.

Having beaten us to the skies, the Soviet Central Committee is known to be concerned over its political losses right down here on earth.

And being the practical men they are, they're doing something about it. If we don't outdo them—and we are not—we'll lose in inner space as well.

THE SOVIETS have just put the finishing physical and propaganda touches on a big brainwashing mill in Moscow. They call it, with the subtlety of a bowl of borscht, the "Patrice Lumumba People's Friendship University."

When it swings into full operation, the Patrice Lumumba University will train some 4,000 Asian, African, South American and Cuban "students" each year.

The Soviet Council of Ministers has been told that these "graduates" will be political, social, government and labor experts.

They will be expected to become the backbone of slick Communist movements which can take over their nations from within—without firing a bullet but perhaps by burning ballots at the right time, or a few buildings wherever necessary.

After the first classes begin to "graduate" we'll be up against the toughest cadres the Soviets have yet put into action as political guerrillas.

Every one of the 4,000 will be carefully hand picked in his home country by special sections of USSR embassies abroad.

THAT'S JUST the first step. Each of the candidates selected by the diplomatic posts will be screened by a special commission of the Soviet Council of Ministers—really a propaganda unit of the Communist Party Central Committee. Only then will the selectee be permitted to become one of the "Four Thousand."

Patrice Lumumba University set up shop early last October in an isolated seven-story compound off a main street in Moscow. Its classrooms are but a few feet, or perhaps a story or two, from the dormitories and social halls and common dining rooms.

Literally, the Soviets do not want their new cadres of intellectual helms to be contaminated by the outer world. The new trainees, especially those from Africa, will not be permitted any freedom of movement outside the seven-story "U."

This is a completely new effort to develop tens of thousands of men and women who will be mentally rigid operatives. They will not be allowed the chance to learn what the Soviet Union is really like.

SO COMPLETE will be this isolation that the trainees will be picked up in their home countries by Soviet agents. Special effort will be made to find men and women who come from such impoverished families that they never traveled outside their own villages or tribal grounds. They will then be rushed to Moscow and the seven-story compound.

The Soviets were forced to launch this new university in isolation—and abandon their earlier trainees—because the pre-Patrice Lumumba students had freedom of movement in Moscow, and became disillusioned.

There are documents to prove that the African students previously recruited—from 1956 to 1960 in the first training experiment under Khrushchev—failed because the young Africans were outspokenly critical.

The Africans complained they were discriminated against. Young Russians beat them if they were found talking to other Russian students.

Groups of young Communist leaguers (Komsomolites) organized raiding parties and invaded the rooms of the African students, rooms torn up.

FURTHERMORE, the foreign students were spied on, their mail was held up or destroyed. They found life in Moscow drab and unchanging—and in sharp conflict with classroom talk of freedom under socialism as opposed to totalitarianism under capitalism.

So the Russians washed out their old program and created their new university. In 10 years they'll have 40,000 Russian-speaking African, Asian and Latin American disciplined Communists who will know nothing except what "Big Brother" taught them to say and do when they return to their own lands.

And we, what are we doing to compete with this tough new political guerrilla force across the contested continents?

Flag-Flying Center

By Gene Gleason

Rockefeller Center has become the flag-flying center of New York, with more than 130 flags of the United Nations, United States, Organization of American States, New York State and assorted company banners flapping in the brisk breezes of Rockefeller Plaza and its surrounding buildings.

Ed Giery, head of the center's protection force and admiral of its flagpoles, can even read the weather by the way his flags behave.

"When the flags droop on the poles in the plaza," Mr. Giery said, "it means there isn't a fresh breeze in town."

But there's such a thing as too much wind — and when it whips through Rockefeller Plaza at speeds above 30 miles an hour, the flag-ends snap like bullwhips, tearing the durable nylon and wool fabric. Before that happens, an emergency flag-furling crew is usually rushed into action to get the flags into their wheeled carrying carts and under cover.

Winds at the center are capricious. Half the 99 flags of the United Nations countries ranged around the plaza may be blowing mast at the same time the other half is streaming to the north.

THE CENTER began flying the U.N. flags of the original 26 nations on Feb. 24, 1942. The number grew and the wooden flag-staffs around the plaza rim were re-located until the present total of 99 was reached last Easter week. Only one decrease was recorded when Egypt and Syria combined into the United Arab Republic in 1958.

When U.N. countries suffer revolutions, Mr. Giery and the center people don't attempt to display their disputed flags; in all cases, they wait until the U.N. has decided which is the authorized flag. In general, the U.N. flags fly from sunrise to sunset in good weather from Good Friday to the Saturday after Thanksgiving.

The flags don't go up on rainy mornings, and when rain threatens during the day, the flag detail hurries to get them folded and stored before they become soaked. Otherwise, the crew is stuck with the hot job of hanging and drying all of them in a special steam room in the sub-basement of the RCA building. If a quick shower catches the flags, the flag-caretakeers depend on the wind to dry them on the staffs.

The flag crews are scrupulously correct about handling all flags.

West's Trump Card

By David Lawrence

Debate Itself Holds Hope In East Germany

Sealing off, for all practical purposes, the eastern sector of Germany from West Berlin is a measure of desperation by Soviet Premier Khrushchev but it really means that there now is less chance than before of a shooting war between the Soviet Union and the Western democracies.

For the new development marks the beginning of a protracted stalemate and, for the time being anyway, the question of Allied access routes to West Berlin is not likely to become acute. When the Soviet government does sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany, a vague promise will be given to recognize Allied rights in West Berlin itself.

This is a Soviet device to maintain a kind of status quo, so as to enable Moscow to keep on arguing and negotiating on legal rights indefinitely. Another parley like the one over Laos or disarmament—extending over many months—would not be surprising now.

Khrushchev doesn't want war, but he does want to build up the faltering prestige of the Communists inside East Germany and in the other satellite countries. To understand what's going on, one has to learn what is being discussed behind the Iron Curtain in some of the Communist-controlled countries other than the Soviet Union.

Diplomats accredited to governments in Western Europe from such countries as Czechoslovakia, Poland, Bulgaria and Romania talk frankly to their colleagues—in private, of course—about what worries them.

FROM SOME of these men—who, though Communist in their ideology, talk sincerely to their fellow diplomats—comes the following composite expression: "The issue is not West Berlin itself. The existence of the Communist state in East Germany is at stake. We are all affected. The German Communists have been unable to consolidate their position in East Germany. Berlin remains the center of Western propaganda, political activity, and espionage.

"The psychological effects of what's going on in this 'western island' in the midst of a Communist state are growing in importance. Also, East Germany is beginning to suffer from a continuous loss of manpower.

"All this could eventually lead to the collapse of the East German economic and political system. "This has been pointed out to us again and again by the Communists of East Germany as they have called for help.

"The Soviet Union is willing to help out on this whole situation but we do not believe Moscow will take unwise risks—and certainly will not risk war just because of the Berlin issue.

"That's why the Soviet leaders want a 'compromise' of some kind provided the threat against the East German regime can somehow be reduced. That's why a separate peace treaty is so important.

"The present 'balance of power' in Europe could not be maintained if the Soviet Union should lose control of East Germany.

"Repercussions in Poland and Czechoslovakia would inevitably ensue. So it's a matter of prestige and security for the Communist party and the Soviet Union that Soviet power shall extend to the Elbe River."

THE SAME SOURCES point out that neither Poland nor the Soviet Union wants to see Germany reunified. In both countries, there is a genuine fear of a strong Germany.

To some extent, this is an aftermath of World War II but the Communists are also convinced that fundamentally the West has no sincere desire to see the two parts of Germany consolidated.

Anxiety is particularly acute in Poland, where it is feared that the East-West conflict over Berlin can create new problems in the economic as well as political field. For the Polish economy isn't in good shape. Extra defense expenditures would be a big burden and would disturb existing economic progress.

Also, it is argued that undue prominence, together with an increase in influence, has been given to East Germany's Communist leaders, who, incidentally, are closer to Stalinism than are the Polish Marxists.

THE POLES, therefore, are hoping for an arrangement that would give a shot in the arm to Poland. This could come if Western guarantees were obtained for the retention of the Oder-Neisse line as the Polish-German boundary. Poland would breathe easier if the West—and not just the Soviet Union, as at present—also guaranteed this border.

Because of possible predominance of a united Germany in an economic and political sense in Europe, these Communist diplomats believe that it would be better to keep Germany divided and that the surest way to accomplish this would be by a Western signature to a separate peace treaty.

All this really points, on the other hand, to the need of a firmer stand in the West, so as to bring about the reunification of Germany.

It's the West's trump card for the debate itself on this issue not only can keep East Germany in a ferment but it can keep alive the hopes and aspirations inside the Communist satellite countries for eventual freedom from Soviet colonialism.

Khrushchev Shuts Gate

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON Premier Khrushchev — from his view — had two good reasons for slamming shut the gate on East Germans trying to flee into West Berlin.

There might be a kickback—for instance, the Allies were talking today of invoking economic sanctions against the East German Communists, like shutting off trade—but he could chance it.

He has to be credited with figuring the Allies might retaliate that way. The fact that he shut the gate indicates he thought his reasons for doing so outweighed what the Allies might do.

These were the reasons:

1. The flood of refugees to the West was draining out of Communist East Germany many of its most talented, skilled and badly needed people.

2. The sudden brake on the refugees might, if Khrushchev was lucky, split the Allies just when they couldn't afford to be split.

What Khrushchev has done now has to be considered along with what he had threatened to do later because, where there was only one Berlin problem before, there are two problems now.

Starting last June he had threatened before the year's end to turn over to the East German Reds control of those routes over which the Allies supply their garisons in West Berlin.

Berlin lies 110 miles inside East Germany. But the Western part of Berlin, with its 2 1/2 million people, is linked to West Germany. This island of capitalism in the East German Communist sea has been a bleeding sore to Khrushchev.

So the move he planned to make before year's end was just the first step in a series, perhaps spread over years, to shut West Berlin off from the West altogether. No realistic person could think otherwise.

The Allies certainly think so, for they decided to stand firmly together to resist any move by Khrushchev to weaken their West Berlin link. This kind of solidarity is not what he wanted.

What he would want, ideally, of course, would be indecision and disagreement among the Allies of preserving their West Berlin rights. But he raised such a rumpus, made such threats, that East Germans began to flee to the West.

This he may not have expected. So he moved to stop them from leaving. But in so doing he created a brand new Berlin problem for the Allies. Not West Berlin this time but the freedom of people to move into and out of West Berlin.

Then the Allies began to talk of economic sanctions. But just how far the Allies are willing to go in this direction remains to be seen.

The East German Communist regime seems a bit rocky. But a revolt of the non-Communist East Germans not only seems out of the question but would be a disaster for the West. For these reasons:

1. The Russians have enough troops in East Germany to put a fast and bloody end to revolution.

2. The West couldn't go to their help unless it was ready to go to war with the Soviet Union.

Voting Board Studies Lone Ballots Bid

The County Election Board is continuing a study today of the lone proposal it has received to print ballots for the Nov. 7 general election.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the board received the Dodge Publishing Co.'s bid asking $10,226.57.

Voters May Register At 4 Branch Offices

Plans to establish three branch registration offices in East Liverpool on Sept. 27, the deadline for city voters to qualify for the Nov. 7 election, have been approved by the County Election Board.

The locations have not been pinpointed but probably will be in the East End, North Side and Pleasant Heights, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

for further study when it met Monday night to rule on non-partisan petitions.

The Salem firm's bid included the printing of regular ballots along with those needed for special questions and issues in cities, villages, townships and school districts.

The board also has approved the establishment of 13 new precincts in the county because of top-heavy votes in the president election, and authorized revision of boundaries of two other precincts.

The establishment of the 13 new precincts boosts the county's total from 132 to 165, O'Hanlon said.

The board decided early this year to add the 13 precincts, acting under a state law which provides the board must act when 400 or more votes are cast in any voting area. An "ideal" precinct has not less than 250 nor more than 400 voters, O'Hanlon explained.

Top-heavy votes were cast in the affected areas in the presidential election last November, O'Hanlon said.

The precincts which the board split include Precincts 1-A and 4-F in East Liverpool; 4-A in East Palestine; 1-D and 4-D in Salem and A and E precincts in Columbiana.

The township precincts affected by the change include Laverpool North, St. Clair South, Yellow Creek West, Butler North, Hanover North and Perry East.

The board also revised the boundary lines of Northwest A in Lisbon and Unity Precinct in Unity Township to make them more even, O'Hanlon said.

Meanwhile, the board explained today that the petition of Melvin H. Elsner, who was seeking a trustee post in Perry Township, lacked 44 signatures instead of 1 as reported in Tuesday's Review.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, explained Elsner needed 68 signatures to make his petition valid. He secured 99, but 75 were eliminated by the board because Elsner violated state law in obtaining the signatures before swearing to and dating his declaration of candidacy. That left him with only 24 signers, 44 short of the required 68.

The number of signers is based on 1 per cent of the vote cast for governor, O'Hanlon explained.

Communist Advisers Rejected

Cuban's Bid For Reds
Snubbed At Latin Parley

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—Cuban economic czar Ernesto Guevara tried to open the door today to Communist advisers for President Kennedy's $20-billion Alliance for Progress but ran into a stone wall.

Delegates from the other 20 American nations at the Inter-American Economic Conference brushed aside Guevara's proposals and in committee unanimously approved a 1,000-word "Declaration to the Peoples of America" summing up the new program of economic aid and self-help for Latin America. Cuba abstained.

The declaration is an abridgement of the 3,000-word Charter of Punta del Este which sets forth the principles of the program in detail. The shorter declaration was drawn up with the idea that it could be more easily understood by Latin America's masses.

After approval at a conference plenary session today, both will be signed Thursday when the conference closes one day behind schedule.

There was speculation whether Guevara would sign for Cuba. But other Latin American delegates said even if he did, the U.S.-controlled agencies that will handle the bulk of the financing won't advance any funds to Cuba.

Guevara said his country cannot fully support the program until it gets a "clear and concise answer" from the United States whether Cuba is in or out of the alliance family. U.S. delegates steadfastly refused to commit themselves.

In the late night committee session that finally whipped the declaration into shape, Guevara made his pitch for Red technicians with an amendment saying that "experts"—could assist Latin American republics in their development schemes. This was interpreted as an attempt to give Soviet bloc and Red Chinese experts a foothold in countries that will receive U.S. aid under the program.

A U.S. spokesman announced that two reports from the U.S. Embassy in Caracas, produced by Guevara earlier in the conference as evidence of U.S. interference in Latin America, were stolen from the automobile of U.S. Ambassador Tendorf Moscoso when a leftist mob burned it in Caracas in June.

One of the documents, prepared by the labor attaché at the Caracas embassy, criticized certain administrative procedures and tax systems of the Venezuelan government. The other, reviewing Latin American feeling on Cuba after the abortive April invasion, said the United States probably could not persuade a majority of the Latin American states to join in a quarantine of Cuba and that

Inspection Planned
At Grange Meeting

Jack Pozenel, deputy master, will inspect the Yellow Creek Grange at its meeting Thursday night at 8:30 in the Grange Hall. Ralph Falconer, master, will preside.

The theme for the program will be "Through the Years." An old Grange newspaper will be read and Monnah and Sam Weese will sing a duet, accompanied by Archie Hearn. A reading will be given by Lawrence Mick and several piano selections by Falconer. Mrs. Frances Jack will present a reading and a skit and stunt will complete the program. A cover-dish dinner will be supervised by the home economics committee.

Inspection of the Juvenile Grange will be conducted by Mrs. Pozenel.

Agency 100 Years Old

Arnold Honored

Long-time business associates and other friends paid tribute Tuesday to C. W. Arnold of Wellsville as his insurance agency marked its 100th year of operation.

The get-together began in the afternoon with a social gathering at the Arnold residence on Riverside Ave. and concluded with a dinner at the East Liverpool Country Club attended by 70.

Mrs. Arnold was hostess for the afternoon event.

Insurance executives from Cincinnati, Columbus, Youngstown and other Ohio cities and Hartford, Conn., were among the guests.

Arnold is shown above holding a certificate presented by the Phoenix Insurance Co. of Hartford "in recognition of the original appointment of C. O. Arnold on Nov. 16, 1861."

C. O. Arnold, Arnold's grandfather, launched the agency and was followed by Arnold's father, Clarence R. Arnold. At his father's death, the present owner took over at the age of 20 and now has directed operations for the last 57 years.

Arnold was presented a clock during a brief program held in conjunction with the dinner at the Country Club.

100 At Picnic At Ohio View

Some 100 members of the Ohio View Lutheran Church and their guests attended the annual church picnic held Sunday at the Zelienople Lutheran Children's Home.

Game prizes were awarded to Tom Brobeck, Eugene Fritz and Jeffrey Wentz in the kindergarden group and Penny Fritz in the primary group, both headed by Mrs. Homer Paul.

Debbie Kramer and Diane Powell were awarded prizes in the junior and intermediate groups headed by Mrs. Ed Kramer.

Donald Luster and Ken Stephens will be in charge of lawn maintenance this week.

The executive study committee will meet Sunday at 2 p. m. in the pastor's study.

"Silas: Trustworthy Co-worker" will be the topic at the Adult Fellowship Class Sunday at 9:45 a. m. Ed Kramer is the instructor.

A film, "The Fighting 69th," will be screened Friday at 6 p. m. in the church hall.

Some 30 members of the Luther League and guests attended a roller skating party Monday night in Koppel with League members of the Hope Lutheran Church of Dawson Ridge. They were accompanied by several adult advisors.

Chester Man Named For Area Lions Post

Walter Jordan of Columbia Dr., Chester, has been named membership development and membership retention chairman for Lions District 29-L by C. E. Queen of Fairmont, district governor.

Jordan, district manager for the Monongahela Power Co. and president of the Chester Lions Club, has served on the district governor's cabinet for the fifth year. He was deputy governor in 1961 and had been zone chairman.

A savory way to use that leftover cooked ham is to dice it and add it to cooked cauliflowererets and a cheese sauce. Nice for lunch or Sunday night supper.

4,000 Teamsters To Quit Union, Join AFL-CIO Units

CINCINNATI (AP)—About 4,000 greater Cincinnati Teamsters plan to quit their independent union and join AFL-CIO units, the Cincinnati Enquirer reported Tuesday night.

The Enquirer said they will be led by James Luken, president of Teamster Joint Council 26 and the Dairy Employees Union here. Luken is a longtime opponent of the policies of Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

Luken's 2,200 - member Dairy Union would be the largest involved in the secession. The other departing groups would be the 700-member Cab Drivers' Local 954; the 700-member Soft Drink and Beverage Drivers Local 152 and the 300-member Funeral Livery Drivers Local 793.

Locals of the rebel locals said the 7,000-member Local 100, largest Teamster group in the area, will probably remain in the Teamsters Union.

The rebels said their move was prompted by Hoffa's recent reelection as president of the Teamsters Union. They were also disappointed at the failure of court-approved monitors to clean up the union.

"Now that Hoffa's been elected again and the monitors are gone, we're in bad shape," an official of one rebel local told the Enquirer. "Hoffa's going to try to get us. He's got the power now to do it."

Members of three of the four locals will meet tonight to vote on the proposed move.

Local 954 is headed by Ray Eberhart. Walter Perkins is president of Local 152 and Lester Griffith heads Local 973.

Body Of Man Found In Ditch

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—The body of a 26-year-old Cleveland man was found in a ditch in Medina county Tuesday night. It was riddled with eight gunshot wounds, said Dr. Andrew J. Karson, Medina County coroner.

The victim was identified as Lou Hamblin, vice president of an employment agency, according to Dr. Karson.

Steve Helli, Medina County sheriff, said Hamblin had been on probation after a conviction for breaking and entering in West Virginia.

Hamblin had been dead since Monday, the coroner said.

Ralph Breneman, 15, of Rt. 4, Medina, found the body about two miles east of Remsen Corners in northeast Medina County, near the Summit County line.

Last Man's Club Proposed At Wellsville Legion Meeting

The forming of a "Last Man's Club", was outlined at a meeting of the Wellsville American Legion Post 70 Monday evening in the post home.

The club is new to this area and was explained by Don King of Toronto. It will be limited in membership to World War II veterans but may be expanded to include veterans of the Korean conflict.

A committee consisting of Francis House, William Boyce, commander, and Harry Excell will contact Ted W. Brown, secretary of state, concerning details of obtaining a charter.

The committee will report at the meeting Aug. 25.

A new television set has been purchased and installed to replace one damaged by fire recently.

House, adjutant, reported on the meeting of the Columbiana County Council last week in Salineville. The next meeting of the council is Sept. 9 at the Post 4 home in East Liverpool.

The post voted to present a flag to the Cub Scout Pack of the First Christian Church.

Boyce reported on the Labor Day parade to be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and announced that the post will enter a color guard.

He said he will investigate the possibility of the post entering a girl in the Miss Junior Chamber of Commerce contest as part of the Labor Day activities.

The membership campaign will get under way in the near future with Howard Watkins, first vice commander, in charge. Awards will be presented again to members enrolling the most members.

Add small portions of cooked vegetables to a leftover portion of cooked meat (diced) or fish (flaked); mix with mayonnaise and season to taste. Use the mixture as a sandwich filling, or a salad for lunch.

Invalid Hurt In Argument

An East End invalid is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when struck by his wife during a domestic argument Tuesday night at the family home.

John Miller, 55, of 1163 Harker Ave., suffered multiple deep scratch wounds of the abdomen, back, left arm and neck, hospital authorities said.

His wife, Mrs. Katie May Miller, pleaded innocent to an intoxication charge this morning in Municipal Court and was released on a $32.50 bond. Her hearing was set for 9 a. m. Monday.

Miller told Patrolmen E. R. Furgason and Lloyd Garvey and Lt. Clyde W. Boso that he will file an assault charge against his wife.

Miller told the officers he was eating when his wife came home intoxicated, took his plate of food and threw it through the rear door.

Police said Miller told them he went to a bedroom to lie down but his wife came upstairs and struck him in the chest and returned a few minutes later and struck him several more times and then hurled articles at him as he attempted to reach the downstairs phone.

Police said the scratches were inflicted by an "unknown object."

2 Truckers Arrested After Crash At Lisbon

LISBON — Two coal truck drivers were cited by police after a collision on Beaver Creek bridge, just inside the town limits on Route 164 Tuesday afternoon.

Police said Joseph F. Lovell, 30, of North Ridgeville, headed north on route 164, struck a south-bound truck driven by Walter C.

Landsberger, 41, of Lisbon R.D. 5, in the center of the bridge at 4 p.m.

Police cited both for reckless operation. Officers estimated damage to the Lovell truck at $200. No damage was listed for the Landsberger truck.

Children Admitted Free

Youth To Reign Tuesday When County Fair Opens

LISBON — Youth will take charge of the Columbiana County Fair when the 116th annual rural extravaganza opens its gates Tuesday. Children will be admitted free that day and over 35,000 tickets were distributed before schools dismissed in June.

The young people will reign from 8 a.m. opening today until the curtain goes down that night, according to Galen Greenisen, member of the Columbiana County Agricultural Society's Fair Board.

The young people presented the evening program last year on a Tuesday for the first time. This year, a "4-H Revue" will be given by club members with representatives from most clubs presenting talent in assorted entertainment.

Wednesday morning at 9:30, the light-weight horse pulling contest will take place in front of the grandstand while judging of several classes of livestock goes on in the Coliseum.

At 1 p.m., there will be eight heats of harness racing, including the 3-year-old trot for a purse of over $1,300.

Wednesday evening at 7, a 14-class All-Western Horse Show will be presented.

Forty head of 4-H steers will be auctioned at 8 p.m. in the Coliseum.

Thursday will again see horse pulling in front of the grandstand, beginning at 9:30 a.m. for the heavy-weight contest. Open class cattle judging will be held in the Coliseum.

Thursday afternoon there will be eight more heats of harness racing, including the 2-year-old pace for a purse of over $1,300.

$9,784 State Aid Given County Fair

Columbiana County's share of state aid this year for the annual county fair is $9,784.06, and Jefferson County will receive $6,500, according to James A. Rhodes, state auditor.

The money that local fairs receive comes from three sources — the Ohio Fairs Fund, an appropriation by the legislature, and the tax on parimutuel betting at a fair's own track.

Thursday night at 8, an hour-and-a-half show, including many outstanding acts, will be featured.

Friday will see four tractor pulling contests, two in the forenoon and two in the afternoon. This year, tractors weighing up to 10,000 pounds may compete. Ponies will also be judged on Friday.

Friday and Saturday nights, a rodeo will be presented in front of the grandstand.

Saturday, Aug. 26, the last day of the fair, will begin with a pony pulling contest in the forenoon. In the afternoon there will be eight heats of harness racing, including the 2-year-old trot and the 3-year-old pace for purses of over $1,300 each.

Early entries indicate that all classes will be well filled and that the barns will be overflowing with livestock, Greenisen said.

There will be livestock and machinery parades Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights before the evening programs.

"Each year we try to make some improvement to the fairgrounds," Greenisen said. "This year we built a modern restroom on the lower grounds. Showers for the men and women exhibiting at the Fair have been included in this modern facility."

Columbiana County "can be proud of its fair as last year it received a certificate of excellence for a well-balanced fair from the Ohio Department of Agriculture," Greenisen said.

3 Men Indicted In Woman's Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—The grand jury has returned an indictment against three Cleveland men charging them with rape, abduction and robbery of a 33-year-old Kent woman July 14.

Named in the indictment Tuesday were Edward M. Middlebrooks, 22, and Carl Harris and James Townsend, both 24.

The indictment said the woman and her date were taken to a field at the end of East 177th street after three men forced their way into the couple's car.

They locked the man in the car trunk after robbing the couple at gunpoint, the indictment asserted, and then raped the woman. The indictment charged the three with a total of 14 offenses.

U.S. Idealism Experiment

Colombian Villages Eyed As Peace Corps Project

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Tucked away in a corner of Andean backlands is rural Cuatro Esquinas—onetime bustling stop-over for muleskinners and today one of several Colombian villages under consideration for an experiment in American idealism.

This all-but-forgotten farm community of some 400 persons is typical of the Colombian hamlets where 64 U.S. Peace Corps volunteers will be sent this fall to live and work with the campesinos in a two-year experimental program aimed at helping the Colombian farmer help himself.

Project officials still haven't decided where the volunteers will be sent when they arrive here the last of August for a final month of specialized training. But they'll all be used in a program of community development assistance.

Ranging in age from 19 to 27, most of the volunteers have farm backgrounds. All have undergone intensive training in the United States.

Together with similarly trained young Colombians, they will drill wells, install water and sewage pipe lines, help build schools, gardens, roads, sanitary facilities, organize youth clubs, develop health programs, and introduce more efficient farm production methods.

Peace Corps officials point out that while most U.S. foreign aid has been given for projects tending to underwrite central government operations, the Colombian program will be directed "at the bottom of the social, political and economic pyramid where the need is most immediate and desperate."

The Colombian project is under the direction of the Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere, Inc., CARE, a private agency, in collaboration with the Colombian government's recently organized Community Development Department.

CARE was picked to direct the operation because it has been working with the Colombian government for seven years on similar programs of community development.

The United States will invest about $786,000 in the project, and CARE will contribute $100,000. After the two years CARE officials will evaluate the program and make recommendations about its future to both the Colombian government and the U.S. Peace Corps.

Corpsmen will get $150 a month for living expenses in Colombia, plus a $75 monthly allowance which will be banked in the United States and available only on separation. They will get 30 paid leave days a year.

Cuatro Esquinas is under consideration for a Peace Corps project because the community,

Ex-Ohioan Sentenced 3 Years In Murder

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Richard Dirlam, formerly of Fremont, Ohio, drew three years in Raiford State Prison at his sentencing Tuesday as accessory after the fact in a murder.

Dirlam, 21, was convicted last week of disposing of the pistol with which Ernest J. Thomas, 35, shot Walter F. Stepniak, 49, a year ago. Dirlam testified he did so because he was afraid of Thomas, but the prosecution brought out that the two were good friends and spent the day after the shooting drinking together.

Thomas, convicted of first-degree murder, is serving a life sentence.

Supply Of Peaches To Start Reaching Peak This Month

Peaches will be the top attraction at fruit counters for the next month with supplies reaching the seasonal peak during this period, reports Richard W. Skinner, marketing agent with the Co-operative Extension Service in Canfield.

Although the supplies are not as large as in some years past, there should be an adequate quantity for most consumers.

Many people ask growers what is the best peach? Their answer is that a peach in season is the best peach. This means that any peach that is in season locally is the best. Local peaches are tree ripened and thus excel in flavor and juiciness.

Local growers are able to sell tree-ripened peaches while the peaches that are shipped in are not tree ripened. Peaches shipped in are usually picked 10 to 12 days before the consumer buys them in the store, because they must be shipped a long distance. Ripe peaches do not hold up under rough handling and thus they must ship a firm peach. To do this they must be picked while partially green. This is why local growers will tell you that there is no one particular peach that is best. But a peach in season locally is the best.

You may want to clip the following ripening dates and best uses for the most common varieties and refer to them before buying peaches. There are other varieties grown in Ohio but these are the more common.

Early-Red-Fire ripens near Aug. 8 and is best for fresh use. Redhaven ripens near Aug. 15 and is excellent for canning, freezing or fresh use. Golden Jubilee ripens near Aug. 20 and the best use if for canning or freezing. Elberta ripens near Sept. 15 and is considered best for canning, freezing or fresh use. Each variety is rated in order of most suitable uses.

During a normal year all dates would be about one week earlier but because of the cool spring this season, the peaches are late.

When buying peaches look for peaches that are white or yellow in background color and firm but not hard. Hard peaches are immature, lack sweetness and will not ripen. Soft peaches bruise and spoil easily. Blush is not important when selecting peaches as this varies with variety.

One bushel of peaches will yield 18-24 quarts canned or 36-48 pints frozen. If you are buying just a few, remember that one pound or four medium size peaches yields four servings of sliced peaches.

Home care is important when handling fresh peaches. Sort peaches and use the ripest first. Skins will slip off easily if peaches are ripe. Store ripe peaches in a flat pan, one layer deep in the refrigerator. If the peaches are a little under ripe, leave at room temperature away from direct sunlight or heat.

Always peel fresh peaches just before using. To keep fresh peaches from discoloring, dip in a citrus juice, such as orange, lemon or pineapple juice. When canning or freezing use ascorbic acid to prevent browning.

According to recent reports more people can peaches than any other fruit. In fact, 41 per cent of all urban homemakers can peaches, while 10 per cent freeze them.

During the season you will find peaches priced near 8-10 cents per pound or $1.25 per peck or near $3 per bushel. If you are going to freeze or can a quantity of peaches, you may want to check with a grower or a retailer ahead of time to determine when you will want them.

Firemen Will Meet With Industry Unit

Industry volunteer fire department will be host to the Tri-State Firemen's Association meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. in the fire hall. Jerome Doyle is president.

George Sullivan, chairman, said the third annual golf tournament will be held again at the Ohio View golf course. The date will be announced.

Everyone may enter. Various prizes will be awarded.

Showdown Due On Pennsylvania Strip Mine Bills

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A long awaited showdown on proposed new strip mine backfilling requirements appeared likely in the Senate today.

Amended bills applying to the Anthracite and bituminous mine fields were in position for a final vote.

However, Lawrence administration Democrats had in hand amendments that would restore the bills to the form proposed originally by the State Mines Department.

The Senate Local Government Committee, headed by Sen. John J. Haluska, D-Cambria, sharply reduced the proposed new requirements last week.

Both sides cautiously predicted victory before the amendments were called to a vote.

Haluska added that he hopes a prospective fight over the amendments wouldn't kill the bills themselves.

He said that in their present form the bills are an advance over present backfilling regulations.

West Virginia To Get $9 Million Road Fund

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia will receive almost immediately $9,377,000 in federal road funds under an order issued yesterday by President Kennedy.

But it apparently will not affect West Virginia's current road program. Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers explained that the Kennedy action was anticipated and was taken into consideration in previous road planning.

County Motor Club Airs New Laws For Motorists

The Columbiana County Motor Club here presents the first of a series of three articles concerning new laws passed by the recent General Assembly which will affect all motorists and highway users.

Many new laws affecting Ohio motorists will be going into effect between now and the first of next year, according to the Columbiana County Motor Club.

Effective dates of the new laws and short summaries of their effect on the passenger car motorist follow. The local AAA club appeared in support of these measures through its affiliation with the Ohio State Automobile Association organization of AAA clubs in Ohio.

Municipalities having ordinances requiring motor vehicles to stop for halted school buses must post signs warning drivers that such ordinances are in effect. This was effective Friday.

Sept. 1 — Penalties for breaking into and stealing parts from cars will be greatly increased, making the crimes felonies on second offenses. Aim is to reduce commission of such crimes, especially by organized gangs who sell stolen items.

Sept. 1 — Penalty for failure to transfer license plates within permitted 10-day period will be reduced from a fine of up to $500, to a fine of $25, thus making it no more severe than the more serious offense of driving without license plates.

Sept. 9 — Drivers may be required by the registrar of motor vehicles to take an examination to determine if they are physically capable of driving a car. This will be in addition to the registrar's present authority to require a re-examination to determine driving skills.

Sept. 9 — Persons riding or leading horses and other animals along a highway must stay off the traveled portion of the roadway and on the left side facing traffic.

Sept. 14 — Persons whose driving rights are suspended or otherwise limited by a court under the Ohio point system will be required to submit to a re-examination of their driving abilities.

Sept. 18 — New Ohio residents holding a valid driver's license from another state will be able to take an examination and obtain an Ohio driver's license without first obtaining a temporary driver's permit.

Sept. 21 — Headlights will be required for driving between one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise (present law is one hour in each case). Driving with parking lights will be prohibited between these hours.

Sept. 25 — Penalties for littering the highway will be increased to $25 to $500 or 30 days in jail, or both. Present penalties are up to $50 or 30 days, or both.

Oct. 2 — Laws prohibiting reckless operation will be extended to off-highway areas used for vehicular travel, such as shopping centers, school grounds, drive-in facilities, etc.

Oct. 18 — Discharging firearms across a highway will be unlawful.

Jan. 1 — Sale of safety seat belts will be regulated to require a minimum strength of 4,000 pounds. Persons buying safety belts before this date should inquire about the minimum strength. All new cars sold must be equipped with brackets for attaching belts in front seats.

Jan. 1 — Sale of brake fluid will be regulated to require it to meet standards set by Society of Automotive Engineers (containers must be so marked). Persons buying brake fluid before this date should check to see if it meets SAE standards.

No School Admissions Now

Judges Receive Ruling About New Quota System

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's juvenile court judges have been notified that no admissions will be accepted to the state industrial schools until the new quota system goes into practice.

It may take as long as four months before any delinquents are admitted, a mental hygiene and correction department spokesman said.

Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the department, wired all 93 judges Tuesday that further admissions will be governed by quotas set for the 88 counties. Robert K. Dean, assistant mental hygiene director, said no commitments would be accepted under the system until capacity levels have been reached at the institutions.

That means Boys' Industrial School near Lancaster has to reduce its present 850 inmates to its normal capacity of 500, and Girls School near Delaware has to release almost 100 inmates, getting down to its 200 capacity, before any more additions will be accepted.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, over the protests of the Juvenile Judges Association and individual judges who met with him Monday, ordered the quota system to relieve overcrowding at the state institutions and to provide that inmates won't be released before they have adequate training.

The governor contends inadequate legislative appropriations for juvenile institutions are to blame for the problem and that the administration is taking the only reasonable course left.

Some of the judges fear the situation will lead to increased juvenile crime.

The judges were informed that all commitments will be handled through the Juvenile Diagnostic Center in Columbus, rather than direct to specific institutions. Counties would have to send over-quota delinquents to private institutions or make other arrangements for them.

Layfield-Morris Wedding Ceremony Held At Rogers

Miss Mary Jane Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Morris of Columbiana R. D. 2, became the bride of Bruce C. Layfield of Rogers Friday evening at the Rogers Christian Church. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ray Layfield.

The double-ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. George Wilkinson. Palms, flowers and a seven-branched candelabra decorated the church, and Miss Penny Hendricks played a 15-minute organ recital.

The bride wore a white embroidered nylon gown over white taffeta and a fingertip veil. She carried a baby white chrysanthemum with pink roses.

Miss Garnet Morris, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of white embroidered nylon over mint green and carried a basket of white chrysanthemum, pink roses and green carnations.

William Smiley was best man, and Larry Kale of Rogers and Chester Burson of Salem were ushers.

The mother of the bride wore an autumn print dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

About 75 attended a reception at the church diningroom where a three-tiered wedding cake and miniature bride couple centered the table in a pink and white color theme.

Aides were Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Dave Burson, Miss Ruth Morris, Miss Cathy Morris and Miss Cindy Wright. Miss Charlene Morris was in charge of the guest book.

Guests attended from Texas, Niles, Lisbon, East Liverpool, East Palestine, Cleveland and Columbiana.

For a trip to the Smoky Mountains and Virginia, the bride wore a two-piece Navy blue ensemble with white accessories.

The bride, a graduate of New Waterford High School, is a secretary at the Thompson Brothers Coal Co. Her husband, a New Waterford High School graduate, is a truck driver for the Mercure Coal Co.

They are residing at Rogers R.D.

Mrs. Anna Johnston of East Palestine is visiting Mrs. Essie McDonald and Mrs. Alzada Holsinger of Rogers.

Mrs. Ruth Cope and daughter, Miss Agnes Cope, and Mrs. Mary Wright visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Evans of Columbiana Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huff of Pittsburgh spent Sunday with Mrs. Flora Huff of Lisbon, who is visiting Mrs. Florence Bable.

Mrs. Jacqueline Eells and Mrs. Maine Hall attended a reunion of the Green family Sunday at East Liverpool. They also attended a reunion Saturday at Columbiana.

Dayton Woman Gets Board Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Hilda Curran of Dayton today was appointed to represent the 3rd Congressional District on the state board of education. Montgomery and Miami counties comprise the district.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced her appointment to succeed Mrs. Ruth Mayne of Dayton, who resigned. Mrs. Curran, wife of Dr. James P. Curran, will serve until a successor is elected and qualified.

The governor Tuesday appointed William E. Callahan of Vermilion to the state board to represent the 13th Congressional District. He filled a vacancy created by the death of William G. Gammie of Berlin Heights. The 13th District includes Sandusky, Erie, Huron and Lorain counties.

DiSalle also appointed John R. Spon, Steubenville attorney, as Jefferson County probate court judge to serve until a successor is elected and qualified. He succeeds the late Judge Emmett M. Morrow. Spon has served as chief assistant prosecutor of Jefferson County for nearly nine years.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, voted with the majority as the Senate Tuesday adopted an amendment to the foreign aid bill by a 52-44 roll call vote. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, voted against the amendment, which would give Congress a veto over individual loans above $5 million under the long-range development loan program.

Lausche later introduced an amendment to cut President Kennedy's requested borrowing authority for a five-year economic development loan plan from $8.8 billion to $7.3 billion. The amendment was killed on a 46-46 tie vote.

U.S. Airlift Ability Cited For West Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said today that if the Communists blockade West Berlin, the United States has the capability to start an airlift within 24 hours, should a move be decided on as a countermeasure.

But Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, made it clear that he does not believe there will be a blockade. He gave no indication as to whether he thinks the administration might order an air lift in the event of a Berlin blockade.

Martin Funeral Home

East Liverpool, Ohio

Dial FU 5-3650

Dear friends,

There is a growing tendency to make funeral plans before death, in somewhat the same manner as a will.

A written list of requests, left where the family can find it readily, is certain to lift a burden from those left behind.

Should you desire to talk this matter over with us in confidence, it is entirely appropriate to do so.

Respectfully,

Harry L. Martin

Council Tie Vote Broken 2nd Time

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night passed 4-3 the second reading of a resolution authorizing the street and light committee to act as an investigating group on the proposed relocation of Route 7 through the city.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, voted to break the 3-3 tie of Councilmen Clarence Cartwright, George Mackall and William Stroble, for the resolution, and Councilmen Robert Taggart, Paul Nelson and Aguin Bowling, against.

She also broke the tie vote on the first reading at the last meeting.

THE AUDITOR'S report was given and Nelson commented that the refuse disposal department is $3,000 in the red and the cemetery department $1,000 in the red.

Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, clerk, read a reply from the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. concerning Council's request for repairs to crossings. The letter said the matter has been referred to the proper department for attention.

The railroad said also it will investigate and stop boys from diving into the Ohio River off the railroad trestle at the mouth of Little Yellow Creek.

Stroble asked about the city's Civil Defense and Floyd Hall, who has been CD director, was in the audience and explained the situation and said nothing has been done.

HALL SAID Council has not appropriated any money and there is no active county organization with the largest city, East Liverpool, being active. He said a county organization is necessary for federal funds.

Council approved Stroble's motion that the finance committee recommend an amount in next year's budget. Council will also contact Columbiana County commissioners about Civil Defense.

After a report by Stroble, Council agreed to have the Ohio Power Co. put in nine more street lights — eight on 18th St. Heights and one on Riverside Ave. near 9th St. — at a cost of $287.40. Additional money needed will be taken from the general fund.

COUNCIL decided the police department will notify the power company when lights burn out. The company complained that residents do not always give the correct location of burned out lights.

Harold Sneddon, manager of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., attended to answer questions about the company's proposed increase in rates. A question was raised at the last meeting about what per cent of profit the company made last year.

Sneddon said the company lost $7,000 in Wellsville. A discussion followed and it was brought out that the company had installed new lines.

Atty. William Bush, city solicitor was in the audience, and said the city is determined to oppose the increase but has not yet agreed on any united action with other towns.

A RESIDENT of Henry and Buckeye Aves. asked that weeds on city property in that area be cut. Safety - Service Director William Robinson will be contacted to have the work done.

A resident of 18th St. Heights asked about signing up for the refuse collection. Council said all residents of that area may obtain the service.

The budget hearing has been set for Sept. 1 at 9 a. m. before the Budget Commission at Lisbon.

William Pickens of 8th St. and Broadway complained that since Broadway has been repaired and raised, cars are splashing water on his lawn. Cartwright reported the complaint.

Council agreed to give Lester Jarvis, 815 Broadway, permission to cut 25 feet of curbing on Commerce St., back of his property, for garages and apartments above, after receipt of a written request. The verbal request was reported by Cartwright.

COUNCILMAN Taggart of the water and sewage committee reported that the city water storage tank in the east end is in bad shape and needs repairs. Taggart also reported a request for oiling of Buckeye Ave. and 11th St. area.

Bowling made a motion referring to the safety service director a request for a one-way sign on the west side of Commerce St. and Cherry Alley. He said a feed mill is near there and there is heavy traffic. He said some people do not realize it is a one-way street.

Council approved a letter of congratulations to the police department for helping capture two men accused of the robbery of a Port Homer tavern.

Entry Day Opens Fair At Fairview

Over 200 entries were received Tuesday — Entry Day — at the Fairview Grange fair in Ohio Township, it was announced.

Entries include flowers, livestock and animals, grain, vegetables, baked and canned goods, paintings and fancy work. Judging was scheduled this morning by judges of the Beaver County Agricultural Extension office.

Nightly entertainment will be featured. Doc Williams and his Border Riders will perform tonight, Jimmy Sebastian's cornet band of Monaca on Thursday night, the Sweet Adelines of East Liverpool Friday night and the Cleff-Tones, a rock and roll recording group from Beaver Falls, Saturday night.

Hearing Due Aug. 24 For Wellsville Woman

A hearing for Mrs. Rosella Hofman of Wellsville, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, will be held Aug. 24 and not Oct. 24 as reported Tuesday.

Mrs. Hofman is charged with contributing to the delinquency of her adopted 16-year-old son in a complaint filed by Chief Deputy Sheriff James Miller.

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, filed charges against the youth as a delinquent child, and the welfare department was given custody of the boy until the final hearing.

Mrs. Hofman and the youth were given lie detector tests at Youngstown Monday to evaluate testimony at a previous hearing.

Auditor To Get List Of Sewer Charges

Assessments against some 65 Beechwood property owners for a new sanitary sewer will be turned over to the county auditor's office for collection with real estate taxes after the deadline for cash payments passed Tuesday. City Auditor Lawrence Applegate said today.

Applegate said the list he will certify includes the names of eight or nine property holders who had protested the assessments to City Council.

Council announced at its meeting Aug. 7 that requests for adjustments of the charges had been rejected. The charge was set at $4.98 a front foot.

Simple but good: add a lot of crumbled crisply - cooked bacon to cream cheese and serve as a spread for crackers or melba toast. Put this combination together just before serving.

Lisbon Board Lets Orders For Supplies

LISBON — Low bidders received contracts to furnish coal, milk and gasoline and oil for grease and wash jobs for buses at the meeting of the Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday evening. Bids also were opened for a nine-passenger school bus.

The Long Coal Co. of Lisbon R.D. 3 was awarded the coal order at a delivered price of $5.50 per ton. It was the lowest of four bids which ranged as high as $6.10. The Kannal Coal Co. had the contract last term.

The Purity Dairy will furnish half pints of milk at 5½ cents for white milk and 6 cents for chocolate. Bids were received from two other dairies — Isaly and Select.

The Wilson Gulf oil station on E. Lincoln Way received the contract for gasoline at 1 cent off on gas and 5 cents off on oil. No charge will be made for lubrication of school buses other than cost of grease and $6 for washing. There were two other bids.

Bids for a new bus included Lewton Garage, $4,200; O. S. Hill, Inc., $2,800; Leyman Bros. $2,566.32; and Lewis Chevrolet, $2,711. No official action was taken on the bids.

Bus insurance was renewed with the Nationwide Insurance Co. for the coming season at approximately $450 per year. Employment of a teacher and librarian was confirmed.

Robert Firestone of Columbiana, Geneva College graduate, will teach social science in Junior High School and physical education and will also handle elementary football and basketball.

Mrs. Margaret Maturean of Lisbon, substitute teacher last year, will be librarian. The board also accepted the resignation of Robert Theiss of Salem, who was given the head basketball coaching post at Olmstead Falls.

Supt. Russell Armitage reported preparations for the opening of school, furniture needs and the modernizing of the home economics room. He requested permission for social studies teachers to teach a survival phase in Civil Defense. He also asked authority to have Ross Gilbert as a part-time custodian at the American Legion home and at the St. George Parish Hall for the two classrooms to be held for McKinley and Lincoln grade schools overflow.

Two electric typewriters were purchased for the typing class with four used machines to be returned to the company.

Mrs. Kenneth Kordrich of W. Pine St. requested permission to start a day nursery at her home. She will require the consent of two-thirds of the property owners in her vicinity. She plans morning and afternoon sessions for children 3 to 5.

The board expressed thanks to the Booster Club for replacing the lights at the Memorial Stadium, estimated to have cost the club about $2,000. Poles were moved nearer the football field since night baseball is not played anymore.

Next meeting is Sept. 5.

Calcutta Child Loses Finger Tip In Mishap

A 9-year-old Calcutta area girl suffered a partial amputation of a finger Tuesday night while playing on a fence at a neighbor's home.

Cynthia Ulbright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ulbright Jr. of Ashland Pl., was treated at City Hospital for amputation of the first joint on the fourth finger of her left hand.

The family said it was not possible to sew the finger tip back although it was rushed to the hospital by police after being located by Mrs. David O'Hanlon. The girl had been taken to the hospital a few minutes earlier by O'Hanlon.

Police were told the child was playing in the back yard at the home of a neighbor, Kenneth J. Reed. Mrs. Reed said Cynthia swung around a fence post and then came running through the yard crying her finger was gone.

City Yodngsters Active At Camp

Four young people of East Liverpool are taking an active part in the annual youth camp of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Free Methodist Church, which began Monday at the denomination's camp grounds at Dixonville. About 100 are attending.

The boys and girls are divided into four groups — Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

Kenneth Page is a member of the Marine team and is also serving as an usher.

Samuel and Forrest Estel are members of the Army team and Samuel is a member of the committee planning devotions.

Virginia Page is a member of the Navy team and is a council representative.

Eva Jane Canon of Weirton, a former resident of East Liverpool, is serving as captain of the Air Force team, and is also a member of the devotions committee for her group.

The Rev. Harold Mitchell of New Brighton is Navy team captain.

taken yet by the three Carroll County districts.

He said Franklin local residents do not want their children riding 13 miles in the school bus to attend high school.

Johnson said that beside the petition given the county board by Franklin Local residents, one was sent to the state school board and one to the Carroll County school board.

The county board said it had no legal authority to transfer a school district outside of the county but would acknowledge receipt of the petition from Franklin Local, recording it in the minutes of the meeting.

Franklin Local residents who oppose the new district have 30 days in which to remonstrate. If they get 35 per cent of voters in the entire district to sign their petition, they can have the remonstrance placed on the ballot after 60 days and then the entire district would vote on the issue.

If such a petition is filed and is legal, it would not be placed on the Nov. 7 ballot because of the 60-day wait between the remonstrance and election.

In other business, the board authorized payment bills of $681.09. Next meeting is Sept. 19 at 8 p. m.

down on the present shortage of parking spaces in the city.

The two officials urged motorists to become familiar with the experimental plan and inform Council members of their opinions on whether or not it is an improvement over present parking.

The "Hollywood" type parking system is used with great success in area cities of Weirton, Salem and East Palestine, Hancock said.

Patrol Asks Which Train Did Auto Hit

"Whose train got hit?"

That was the question Ohio Highway Patrolmen at Lisbon were seeking to answer today as the aftermath of a collision between a car driven by a Lisbon man and a train at a Route 30 crossing near Bayard early this morning.

Officers said Ward L. Traesel, 30, of Grant St., Lisbon, was headed west on Route 30 about a half mile from the Stark County line when he saw the flasher lights at the crossing where tracks of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads intersect with the highway.

He was unable to stop in time and his auto struck the side of the passing train, demolishing the front and side of the 1960 model car. The crash occurred at 3:20 a. m.

The train did not stop and officers were unable to determine which tracks the train was on. The patrol was checking with railroad authorities today.

Traesel, who was unhurt, was cited for failure to obey a crossing signal.

In a crash yesterday afternoon on Route 30 about four miles south of Lisbon, an auto driven by Cyril Ackerman, 41, of Lake Milton, hit the rear of an auto operated by Hugh Smith, 25, of East Liverpool R. D. 1.

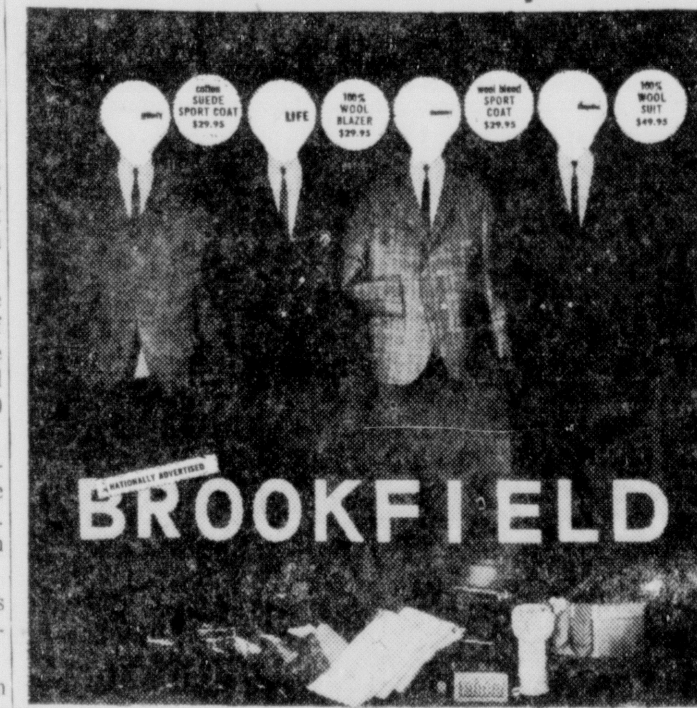

Officers said Smith, headed north, slowed to make a turn into a private drive, and his auto was struck by Ackerman's. The later was charged with reckless operation.

Cook several extra strips of bacon at breakfast time and refrigerate. For lunch or supper next day crumble the bacon and add it to cooked rice to be served with the main course.

3,300 Farmers Eligible

Balloting Slated For ASC Group

LISBON — Some 3,300 Columbiana County farmers are being urged to participate in the balloting for community committees in the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program.

Clifford Shaw, chairman of the county ASC, said the committee will mail the ballots to the eligible farmers by Aug. 25. They must be returned by Sept. 5 and will be counted Sept. 8 at the ASC offices here.

Shaw said this annual election is one in which all eligible farmers should "feel a duty to participate."

THE COMMUNITY ASC committees to be elected consist of three regular members and two alternates. The chairman and vice chairman will serve as delegate and alternate to the county convention when the county ASC committee will be chosen.

Any person may vote in the community election who is of legal age, has an interest in a farm as an owner, tenant or sharecropper, and who is taking part in one of the farm programs administered by the committee.

Any person not of legal voting age, but who is in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations on an entire farm, is eligible to vote. In case of joint ownership by two or more individuals, each is an eligible voter.

There are some limitations on voting. Each is entitled to only one vote on any one ballot. If a voter has an interest in a farm, or farms in more than one community in the county, he or she may select the community in which to vote, but the vote may be cast in only one community. Voting by proxy is not permitted.

IN THE CASE of partnership farms, the vote may be cast by either partner, and a corporation's vote may be cast by any authorized officer, Shaw said.

Because of the vital part that the ASC community and county committees play in the farming affairs of the county, it is important that each farmer give serious consideration to the men elected to these posts, Shaw said.

Information concerning the election between Aug. 25 and Sept. 5 may be obtained at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

The five receiving the highest vote totals in each community or area will be the delegates. The nominees are:

Butler Township — Roger Baker, Nelson Baunach, William S. Bock, George Brantingham, Donald Flagan, Oliver Greenamyer, Glenn Hoopes, Harold J. McCullough, Donald Sanor and Lloyd Walton.

HANOVER and Center — Fred Bates, Carl Crosser, Arthur Haesley, Ernst Moser, George Sell, Harry Speidel, Kenneth Wallace.

Draft Board Forwards 12

Twelve men left by bus Tuesday afternoon from the Columbiana County Draft Board at Lisbon for induction in the armed services at Cleveland.

One man scheduled for induction failed to appear, according to Mrs. Elaine Griffith, clerk of Board 16. Inducted were:

East Liverpool — Raymond Christian, Post Office Box 246; Joseph J. Hampson, 175 Maine Blvd.; Charles R. Clark, 1065 Ephraim St.; J. H. Moss, 1009 St. Clair Ave., and William W. Jones of Cincinnati, formerly of East Liverpool.

Salem — Jerry E. Snowberger, John E. Stryfeler and R. V. Solmen of Detroit, formerly of Salem.

Robert L. Curtis, 1742 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville; Fred W. Polen, Box 15, Salineville; John P. Remish, East Palestine, and Earl Crowl of Suffield, formerly of Lisbon R.D. 5.

Seven more will go for induction next Tuesday, which will complete the board's quota for August.

Fifty-six will be sent for physical examinations on Sept. 19, and the first call for September induction is 19 men. The board expects an additional call for induction next month, Mrs. Griffith said.

Rudy Wilk Buys Back His Hotel

Rudy Wilk, who was associated for 37 years in the operation of the Riverview Hotel in Wellsville, purchased the 3rd St. landmark at a sheriff's sale Tuesday at Lisbon for $50,000.

A judgment against the previous operators, Donald D. and Catherine Chapel, was held by Wilk who sold it to them about four years ago.

Wilk, who resides at Guilford Lake, was in Cincinnati today and was reported undecided on his plans for the building. He was the only bidder on the structure which had been appraised at $60,000 and could not have been sold for less than $40,000.

Wilk worked with his father, the late Fred Wilk, in the hotel, and later operated it himself. The present building was erected about 1927 after the previous structure burned.

Sheriff Russell VanFossan conducted the sale.

City Women Hurt In Falls

Two city women, injured in falls, were treated at City Hospital Tuesday along with four area youngsters and a man hurt yesterday and today in separate mishaps.

Mrs. Ethel McDonald, 629 Lincoln Ave., was treated last night for a fracture of the right wrist received in a fall at home.

Mrs. Nora Reeder, 604 College St., suffered abrasions of the right knee in a fall down a pair of steps.

Edward Rayl of LaCroft was treated this morning for a bruise of the right hand suffered when he bumped it against machinery while at work at the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Judith Pickering, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pickering, 433 W. 4th St., was treated last night for a laceration of the upper arm received on glass at home.

Richard Mattern, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mattern of Glenmoor, received a fracture of the left forearm while swinging on a grape vine.

Christopher Delekta, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Delekta of New Cumberland R. D. 2, suffered an injury to the left index finger when a car door shut.

Donna Duffy, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Duffy, 720 Avondale St., was treated for bruises of the right jaw suffered in a fall from a play device.

PTA Executives Air Plans For Programs

Program plans were outlined at the meeting of the Executive Board of the City Federation of Parent-Teacher Organizations Tuesday night in the office of Supt. Ralph Betts at the high school.

Mrs. Paul Davis, president, conducted business. The opening fall meeting is scheduled Oct. 9 at the library of Westgate School.

Attending were William Sturgeon, vice president; Mrs. Roger Green, secretary; Mrs. Ernest Lowe, treasurer; Judson English, board member; Mrs. J. Nessly Porter, program chairman; Paul Blair, assistant superintendent, and Betts.

When arranging cans, jars and packages of food on kitchen shelves, make sure the labels show.

Speeder Fined $5

LISBON — George A. Paxson, 36, of Salem was fined $5 and costs Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of speeding. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Serviceman Drowns

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—Services were being arranged today for Edward E. Aber, who came home on leave from Fort Meade, Md., and drowned Tuesday in Rocky Fork Lake.

TV Isn't Looking Hard Enough For Winter

Television's frantic producers say they still are searching and searching for good writers. Well, I think I've got a fellow for them who might shape up. He has done practically no TV, but he has a large trunk at home which contains more than 800 plays.

All of these were done on radio in years gone by and won for their author every award, including the Peabody Award. In the interim, he has written and produced movies, made a lot of money and is living in a futuristic home designed for him by the late Frank Lloyd Wright.

I mention these things to prove that the guy is no bum (he also has a pretty wife and three boys), but, more important, he wants to write for TV.

HIS NAME is Arch Oboler, and anyone over 40 who hasn't heard of him must have been living in a lead cave or doing missionary work in Outer Mongolia.

Arch is just back in town from a year in Toronto, where he has written and produced a new movie titled "One Plus One." It pokes some sharp barbs at the famous Kinsey Reports.

"Really," says Arch, "the idea for this movie was inspired by my distaste and distrust for all surveys, particularly those which furnish us the TV ratings."

"I always have maintained that a person being surveyed is more apt to say what he believes to be socially acceptable, or if he is emotional, it is his blood chemistry at the moment which affects his answers."

"THE SURVEYORS, of course, all believe that they are psychologically equipped to detect such flaws, but I don't believe they are."

Most people probably remember Arch for his "Lights Out" radio series of the late '30s. Actually it was the late Willis Cooper who originated the show, but Arch wrote the chilling horror plays for two years. His best works, however, were plays packed with social significance about the plight of man in modern society.

He is fascinated by TV and wants to write for it, but his few experiences with the medium have been unhappy ones. Not long ago he wrote a play for George Shaefer, producer of "Hall of Fame." It carried the theme that mankind must not give up hope because it is sitting on an H-bomb.

"GEORGE LIKED the play, and Joyce Hall, the sponsor, liked it," reports Arch. "But then weeks went by, and I finally asked when we were going into production. It was to be filmed in Europe. George said he had hesitated to mention it, but Mr. Hall wanted a small change in the story."

The "small change" turned out to be what Arch considered the crux of the whole message. He refused to make it, so sponsor Hall sent Shaefer to Europe to film "Macbeth" instead.

"In 1958," recalls Arch, "Lever Bros. liked a pilot film I had done. I called it my 'Gee' film, because every time an agency man or sponsor man saw it, they would shout, 'Gee!'"

"The deal was all set, verbally, but those weeks began to go by again, and finally Lever bought Jackie Gleason's new live half hour with Buddy Hackett. I think it lasted nine weeks."

"THE TROUBLE with TV is that all decisions are made by committee. Until one man is allowed to make the decisions, and the creative people are given their freedom, TV is going to be hamstrung. But I have hope that things will open up in TV — if the war tensions over Berlin do not increase."

Two years ago, Arch found himself in a network v.p.'s office with contracts all drawn up for him to sign. He was to have had "complete freedom" to write a series of TV plays, it said in the fine print.

"The v.p. suddenly got a call from a director in Hollywood," says Arch, "and right in front of me this v.p. began rewriting a show by phone from New York. I picked up my hat and left him and the contract."

I still say, though, that TV can't go on crying about the shortage of good writers until Arch Oboler is brought into the fold.

Georgetown Fete Has 300

About 300 attended the annual Campbell family reunion at the Hookstown Grange Hall Saturday and 1962 officers were elected.

They are Gordon Campbell of Georgetown R. D. 1, president; William Campbell of Hookstown R. D. 1, vice president; M. S. Richard Nichol of Lisbon, secretary, and Mrs. Edward Boyd of Hookstown, treasurer.

Lunch and supper were served and there was dancing in the evening with music furnished by the Bill Burris orchestra of Shippingport.

Walter Campbell, 88, of Georgetown R. D. 1, was the oldest and Vicki Lorene Allison, month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allison of Hookstown R. D. 1, the youngest. The family traveling the farthest was that of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Campbell of Williamstown, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bible and family of Cuyahoga Falls were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Doak.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Butcher Jr. and family spent the weekend with Mrs. Frederick Butcher. Mrs. Carl Ogren of Upland, Calif., has returned after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alexander.

Harold Calhoun of Hollidaysburg has returned after visiting his mother, Mrs. Thomas Calhoun.

Lillian Laughlin and nephew, Robert Stevenson, and Ann Marie Hewitt of Arlington, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Laughlin and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hewitt. Miss Hewitt attended the silver wedding celebration of her parents while home.

West Virginian Held In Car Theft

A Gerrardstown (W. Va.) man was bound to the Grand Jury under a $1,500 bond after pleading guilty to an auto theft charge Tuesday in Municipal Court.

Norman S. Johnson, 25, waived a preliminary hearing and entered the guilty plea before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the charge alleging he took the car of Alfred Neal Jr. of Wheeling which he later wrecked.

Johnson was apprehended early Sunday by Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins on Erie St. while fleeing after he crashed Neal's auto into two parked cars on Pennsylvania Ave., near Lee St.

After capturing Johnson, the officer learned the auto he was driving had been stolen a few minutes earlier from Long Alley and had been involved in a crash with another car parked nearby.

Johnson was fined $25 and costs Monday in Municipal Court on an intoxication charge.

Last Illness, 'Cold Heart' Operation Topics On Health

By The Associated Press

The last illness, the human confusion of racing the sun, and operating on hearts packed in ice are subjects with a focus on health.

DEATH IN OLD AGE
What of the last weeks and days of life?

British researchers have made a study of death as it came to 220 ailing old people, aged 60 to 101, in a hospital.

At least a quarter of the patients were aware they were dying. And most of them met this awareness without fear or misgiving, even with calmness. In seven of the patients the premonition of death came within a few hours of the fact.

Only 13 per cent of the patients complained of moderate to severe pain during this last illness. Oddly the pain was more prevalent with diseases like rheumatoid arthritis than in other ailments including cancer. Less than a quarter of those with cancer suffered moderate to severe pain.

DAYLIGHT SAVING
The jet airplane and its rapid transit across the oceans and continents have added an element of confusion to the traveler's adjustment problems.

Picture this: You leave Paris at noon and arrive in New York at 3 p.m. local time. You've been in the air seven hours. But jet speed racing the sun has saved you four. Now if you work an eight-hour day, you are working a 12-hour day. Even dinner will be late, four hours late.

Air Force researchers point out that some 70 per cent of jet travelers are so sensitive to such shifts in phase that they may develop some disorder or other trying to adjust.

Two obvious solutions: Adopt the living and time patterns of your destination before you leave. Or arrive early enough so you will have time to adjust.

COLD HEART
Doctors are now actually packing the heart in ice for some prolonged heart operations.

Bottles of saline ice crystals—a sort of salt water slush—are prepared before the operation and the crystals are packed around the heart as they are needed, arresting the heart's action while the surgeon works.

British researchers tested the method reported last year in the United States. It was useful in cases where the heart muscle has to be arrested for longer than 15 minutes.

The heart is warmed and starts normal action when resupplied by warm blood promptly after the operation without signs of impairment.

Veteran Writer Dies

CHICAGO (AP)—Marcia Winn Morgenstern, 50, veteran Chicago Tribune reporter and columnist, died Tuesday. Under her maiden name, Marcia Winn, she conducted the column "You and Your Child" that appeared in a number of newspapers around the country. Mrs. Morgenstern was a native of Danville, Ill.

Lisbon Group Holds Picnic

The Past Presidents' Parley of the auxiliary of the American Legion Post at Lisbon held its annual picnic Monday night on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Albert Webber of W. Maple St. Ten were present. Supper was served.

Mrs. Byron Griffith, president, conducted brief business.

The group will go to Shenango Inn at Sharon, Pa., for dinner Sept. 18.

Mrs. James Babb of N. Jefferson St. was hostess Monday night for the Victory Club. Mrs. Lodge Thorne was a guest.

Prizes at 500 were awarded Mrs. Florence Stacey and Mrs. Virginia Williams. Lunch followed.

Mrs. Babb will again receive the club Aug. 28.

Mrs. Roy Patterson of E. Pine St. was honored Monday evening by associates of the Young Women's Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Patterson, a recent bride, was presented a gift of glassware.

Dinner was enjoyed at Timberlane's in Salem and a social followed.

The group will not meet until October.

The Rev. and Mrs. Paul T. Gerard and daughter, Miss Ruth Ann, of E. Chestnut St. have returned from a vacation through the Finger Lakes region in New York State.

Mrs. Dallas Hepburn of E. High St. has as her guest this week, her sister, Mrs. H. O. Coleman, of Marion.

Arena Head Resigns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Wilfred T. (Bill) Bancroft, general manager of the Cleveland Arena, announced his resignation Tuesday. Richard L. Kroesen, president of the arena, will direct operations until Bancroft's successor is named.

To Face Grand Jury

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Following his plea of innocent to charges of armed robbery and murder Tuesday, Patrick L. Muldrew Jr., 27, of Tiltonville, Ohio, was ordered bound over to the Ohio County's October grand jury. The charges stem from the $2,500 holdup July 29 of the Elm Grove A&P supermarket in which Robert Nelson, 30, the co-manager, was shot fatally. Muldrew is held without bond.

Bow Opposes Labeling Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, is opposing legislation that would require manufacturers of imitation wood paneling to label their products as "simulated."

Bow of Canton, Ohio, told a House commerce subcommittee that two measures, providing stiff civil and criminal penalties for false or misleading labeling, would not protect consumers.

They would give manufacturers of hardwood veneers "a sales advantage they do not now possess," Bow said.

The bills would require the "simulated" label on all wood, fiberboard, plastic, metal, gypsum, paper and film-coated paneling which have "a printed or engraved surface to simulate the appearance of hardwood."

Manufacturers of hardwood veneers would label their products "genuine hardwood."

"I doubt seriously that consumers are deceived with regard to other products that have an appearance of wood," Bow said. He also contended the Federal Trade Commission "already has ample authority in the law to protect consumers from deception or misrepresentation."

Border Patrolmen Ride On Air Flights

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Border Patrolmen have been riding as guards on flights out of San Antonio since last week when President Kennedy announced he would order such a move, The San Antonio Express said Tuesday.

Most airline spokesmen were mum about the move, but a spokesman for American Airlines confirmed that Border Patrolmen have been riding American flights on a spot basis.

He said the patrolmen have been boarding selected flights "without fanfare" since President Kennedy's announcement after a Pan American jet was hijacked over Mexico and forced to fly to Cuba.

Vast Army, A-Arms Seen For Red China

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Australian ambassador to the United States predicts that Red China will have a vast army with nuclear weapons within 25 years.

Sir Howard Beale, addressing a Town Hall meeting at the Biltmore Hotel Tuesday, said Red China would have a population of a billion people and the third largest industrial output in the world by 1986.

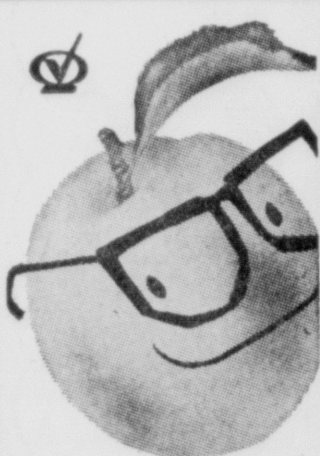

"But the per capita acreage of her arable land is relatively low," he said, "so that she has economic as well as ideological reasons for casting envious eyes upon 'the rice basket' comprising the countries adjacent to her."

British Liner Has 20 Slot Machines

NEW YORK (AP)—The British liner Queen Mary has some new equipment to help travelers while away their time—and in many cases, money—on Atlantic jaunts. The vessel carries 20 slot machines.

Several crew members commented when the liner docked here Tuesday that the machines did a better business than the bar. But a passenger chimed in, "I never saw anyone win."

Customs agents ordered the "one-armed bandits" padlocked while the Mary is in port here. The machines are illegal in New York State.

New Mysteries Of Universe Are Puzzling Astronomers

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Some monumental new mysteries about the universe are puzzling astronomers gathered here from around the world.

For one thing, they find puzzling evidence that the universe is 20 to 30 million years old, not the young 10 to 11 billions it seemed to be just a couple of years ago. And they are finding many lo-sided and chaotic galaxies or Milky Ways of stars, each composed of hundreds of billions of stars or suns. Our own sun belongs to the Milky Way, which is only one of billions of galaxies.

One galaxy seems to be running away from us at half the speed of light—zipping 93,000 miles farther away every second—yet it is apparently only half as old as the rest of the universe about us.

New riddles like this seems to be popping up all the time, says Dr. Jon H. Oort of Leiden, Holland, president of the International Astronomical Union.

"We can only hope that when we have amassed enough enigmas, the solution may be near," he told about 1,000 colleagues from 33 countries who today began technical discussions on latest research findings in astronomy.

Galaxies are found to occur in a great variety of shapes, and the majority have structures which cannot possibly be in equilibrium or balance, said Dr. Oort.

These galaxies were apparently created "in a past and quite different phase of the universe," and a big problem is to find out what happened then and when.

But so far, he added, "we have hardly been able to decipher any of the hieroglyphs of these galaxies."

Discloses Earnings

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. says its earnings for the year ending June 30 were $17,631,799 or $2.27 a share. The company's earnings for the year ending June 30, 1960, were also $2.27 a share on net profit of $17,421,964.

Young And Lausche Differ On Aid Vote

ALPENA, Mich. (AP) — Col. Dale E. Shafer of Ohio's Air National Guard training here returned from a Pentagon conference Tuesday and reported that no date has been set for activation of any alerted ANG units.

But if any Ohio unit is called, the 121st ANG wing commander added, personnel of all three alerted Ohio squadrons would go together. These are the 166th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Columbus, 162nd at Springfield and the 112th at Mansfield.

Regional Aide Speaks

Social Security Changes Outlined For Rotary Club

Extensive changes in the Social Security laws authorized by act of Congress in the past two years were outlined by W. L. Hopkins of the Youngstown regional office when the Rotary Club met Tuesday afternoon in the Travelers Hotel.

The field representative emphasized that one of the more important changes was the amendment passed by Congress in 1960 eliminating the age restriction under which disabled persons can receive benefits.

Hopkins said Congress rescinded the law which stipulated that a disabled person must wait until he was 50 before becoming eligible for Social Security benefits. The age limit was removed entirely, and the disabled now may receive benefits at any age, provided he qualifies in other respects, Hopkins said.

Congress also liberalized the law dealing with the monthly income permitted for a person who draws Social Security benefits.

The old law stated that a wage earner would lose one month's check if he earned $1 over $1,200 in one year. The new amendment stated that a wage earner would lose not more than one-half of his benefits for every dollar over $1,200 and up to $1,700, Hopkins said. He still is entitled to a check any month he does not earn over $1,000, the field representative said.

A lump-sum death benefit payment also can be made directly now to a funeral operator for burial expenses for the deceased. The lump sum is three times the amount of his monthly retirement benefit, but cannot exceed $255.

Congress also increased to $40 from $33 the minimum benefit except for those who file claims before they reach 65, Hopkins said.

Another change is that a wage earner is required to have only one-fourth as many quarters of coverage for benefits as in the past.

"A man born before 1893 now needs only six quarters of coverage, while a female born before 1894 needs only the same six quarters to be eligible for benefits," Hopkins pointed out.

Congress also passed in 1960 another amendment reducing the time to one year that a woman is required to have been married to a wage earner to receive his death benefits. Adopted children also are covered by the new plan. The period before was three years.

"Up to 1960, dependent parents received no benefits when the wage earner died," Hopkins said. "Now, dependent parents can receive payments when the wage earner expires, as they were given the same status as a wife and child."

"A parent can now be covered with Social Security benefits if he or she works for a son or daughter in a place of business, but it must be legitimate employment."

It is no longer necessary for non-profit organizations, such as hospitals, to hold elections among their employees to decide on Social Security coverage for the employees, Hopkins said. The non-profit organizations do not have to ask now for the right to withhold Social Security funds.

Congress also approved in a new amendment to raise to 82½ per cent from 75 per cent the amount of benefits that a widow of 62 would receive from the Social Security funds of her late husband.

Hopkins was introduced by A. L. White, program chairman. Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, reminded members of the annual club picnic Aug. 29. Perc Blake is general chairman. There will be no noon meeting on the day of the picnic.

Plane, Boat Exchange To Be Completed

HAVANA (AP)—A $2.5-million Eastern Air Lines passenger plane swapped for a $50,000 Cuban patrol boat in the aftermath of a hijacking wave may return to Miami Fla., today.

A 10-man airline crew arrived in Havana Tuesday to fly back the Lockheed Electra hijacked to Cuba last July 24 with 38 persons aboard.

The patrol boat, seized by Cuban refugees four days after the plane was hijacked, left Key West, Fla., for Cuba under a plane-for-boat deal.

Three Cuban sailors manned the 38-foot craft. The Coast Guard escorted the vessel to America's three-mile limit and returned several guns that were aboard the boat when it reached Key West.

A Miami lawyer tried unsuccessfully to attach the boat for Terry Kane, an American whose Cuban tractor business Fidel Castro's government seized. A Florida court awarded Kane a judgment of $833,998 against the Castro regime.

Another American creditor of the Cuban government, Miami advertising man Erwin Harris, relinquished a court claim to the boat. Harris already has seized a number of Cuban airplanes in the United States to apply toward a $429,000 judgment.

The U.S. government said the boat was not subject to court seizure because it is a government naval vessel.

25 Attend Pughtown Reunion For Family

About 25 attended the annual McElfresh family reunion Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McElfresh of Pughtown.

Guests attended from Pittsburgh, Alliance, Hanoverton, East Liverpool, Weirton, New Cumberland and Wintersville. Ralph McElfresh was in charge. The 1962 reunion will be in August.

Youngster Gets Bathtub Faucet Stuck In Mouth

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Virginia Coons was still trying to determine today how her son Michael Edward, 5, got that big bathtub faucet stuck in his mouth.

Its removal necessitated the use of police, firemen and a doctor.

It also caused her to go into shock.

"I just don't know how he did it," she said. "I saw him put his mouth around it once and told him not to do it again."

"I turned around for a moment and when I turned back around there it was."

She couldn't get it out, and neither could police. Firemen arrived and cut it off the tub with a hacksaw.

Faucet in mouth, Mike was taken to St. John's Hospital where a doctor had better luck.

$75,000 Fire Loss

HILLIARD, Ohio (AP) — Fire ruined the Holliday Supermarket and two apartments above it in the business district of this Franklin County community Tuesday. Damage in the total-loss fire was estimated at $75,000.

Archaeologists have found evidence that women served as doctors and nurses in ancient Egypt.

Grease Fire Quelled After Call To Firemen

A grease fire in a Sunnyside home Tuesday night was out on arrival, firemen said.

The department was called to the home of Ray Sullivan, 921 May St., at 5:53 p. m. when the grease ignited as Mrs. Sullivan was cooking french fries, firemen said.

The department investigated an odor of smoke in Diamond Alley at 10:01 p. m. yesterday but was unable to locate any fire.

Firemen used the aerial ladder truck to aid in installation of a new police radio antenna at the Henry Ave. transmitting station.

Reds Only One Behind After Beating Dodgers, 5-2

Pirates Bow; Phillies Drop 18th In Row

Associated Press Sports Writer
Right-hander Joey Jay, backed by Wally Post's tie-breaking home run, gained his 17th victory by shutting out Los Angeles on three hits over the last eight innings as Cincinnati beat the first place Dodgers 5-2 Tuesday night and edged within one game of the National League lead.

Third-place San Francisco defeated St. Louis 3-2, Milwaukee made it five in a row with a 4-1 job on Pittsburgh, and the Chicago Cubs sent the last-place Philadelphia Phils to their 18th straight defeat 6-5. The modern NL record for consecutive losses is 19.

Jay beat Los Angeles for the fourth time in six decisions this season by blanking the Dodgers on three hits over the last eight innings. The young right-hander, set to become Cincinnati's first 20-game winner since Ewell Blackwell in 1947, finished with a six-hitter after giving up three hits in the first when the Dodgers scored on singles by Duke Snider and Wally Moon.

San Francisco managed just four hits but beat southpaw Curt Simmons (7-8) of the Cards with two runs in the sixth on sacrifice flies by Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport.

Home runs by Frank Thomas and Hank Aaron did it for the Braves, with Aaron's 31st of the year a two-run shot that broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth and beat Joe Gibbon (8-8). Carl Willey (5-6) was the winner, giving up five hits.

Eagles Star Awaits 13th Year As Pro

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Chuck Bednarik sees the 1961 National Football League season as one of the most challenging in his 13 years with the Philadelphia Eagles.

"Not so much for myself," says the 235-pound center-linebacker. "I've accomplished personally all the things I've wanted from this game. But this season is a challenge to the team."

An all-NFL star, Bednarik referred to disparaging remarks made this past winter about the Eagles, comments that their 1960 championship was a fluke, the best team didn't win.

Taking a few minutes off from training chores at the Eagles' preseason camp in this eastern Pennsylvania countryside, Bednarik said, "We've got to prove by winning again that we're real champions."

The NFL's iron man played 394½ minutes in 12 league games last season.
Bednarik, who has missed only three of 147 games since the Eagles made him their bonus pick for the 1949 season, says 1961 should be his last as an active player.

Salineville Gridders Due Physical Exams

All Salineville High School football candidates will be given physical examinations Thursday morning at 10 at the high school. Coach Dick Jones announced.

The exams are required of all who drew equipment earlier, plus others who wish to participate.

Bob Hendley, rookie southpaw with the Milwaukee Braves, won 14 games for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in 1958, 15 with Atlanta and Austin, Tex., in 1959 and 16 last year with Louisville.

Waterford DD Is $46; Saumell On 2 Winners

A combination of 9-3 was worth a daily double payoff of $46 Tuesday at Waterford Park.

National Beauty won the first race to pay $9.60, while Caballero F. F. scored a victory in the second with leading jockey Francisco Saumell aboard, paying $4.40. Saumell also booted home Stop Thief in the ninth to boost his number of winning mounts for the meet to 45 to lead by three over jockey C. Clark.

Jockey W. Miller brought Big Tent to the wire in front of Bryansville in the featured sixth race.

Large Field Assured For Races At Clinton
A large field of cars is assured for the stock car races to be held at the Washington County Fair Thursday night at the Greater Pittsburgh Speedway in Clinton.

Over 25 of the Tri-State district's top racers have filed entries with Whitey Hollowood, race director.

Entries include George Heller of Negley, top point leader, Ron Dyda and Smith Todd, both of Midland, and Keith Tucker and Ted Tucker, both of East Liverpool.

Six events are on the race program, to be climaxed by a 30-lap feature, the Washington Sweepstakes.

A highlight will be the father-son team of Keith and Ted Tucker competing against each other. Racing will begin at 8:30 p. m. The super modified "bombs" race Friday night at the Clinton oval.

American League Umpire Ed Runge says he would rather work the second games of double headers behind the plate rather than don the mask for the first game. "I don't get so tired that way," says Runge.

49ers Trade Y. A. Tittle To New York

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 49ers' veteran quarterback, Y. A. Tittle, has been traded by the San Francisco National Football League entry to the New York Giants.

In exchange, the 49ers, now basically a young club in the third year reign of Coach Red Hickey, picked up lineman Lou Cordileone, 23.

Tittle, 35, is a 13-year pro veteran, 11 in the NFL, the last 10 with San Francisco. He owns the best pass completion average of any active quarterback, 55.3 per cent. In his 11 NFL campaigns, one with Baltimore, he completed 1,387 of 2,110 passes for 17,900 yards and 216 touchdowns.

He was 69 of 127 for 694 yards and 4 touchdowns in 1960, a season that saw him plagued midway by a groin injury and the installation of Heikley's new spread offense — "my quarterback-run-with-the-ball shotgun."

Cordileone, 6-3 and 255 pounds out of Clemson, was the Giants' first draft choice in 1959. As a rookie in 1960 he saw service as an offensive guard-tackle and a defensive tackle-end.

The trade was made after Saturday's exhibition game between the two clubs. The Giants won 21-20, but Tittle almost pulled it out.

He came off the bench, rallied the 49ers from a 21-13 deficit and then hit Monte Stickles in the end zone. But the play was called back.

14 Young City Athletes To Vie In Hiram Events

Fourteen young city athletes will leave Saturday morning at 9:30 to participate in the state finals of Operation Fitness at Hiram College.

The boys and girls, 9 to 16, qualified for the Ohio meet by winning first places in the Columbus County track and field meet earlier at Patterson Field.

They will be joined by a group of Salem athletes who competed against them in last Saturday's meet. The East Liverpool Jaycees will accompany the group.

Leading the city contingent is 9-year-old Roxie Brewer, who sped 50 yards in seven seconds in the Patterson Field meet. Her time was a little less than two seconds off the world's record for men in the 50-yard dash.

The Jaycees announced that those making the trip to Hiram are to report to the YMCA Thursday night at 7:30 for final instructions at a brief meeting.

The city group includes, besides Miss Brewer, Darrell Herring, Bruce Christen, Dan Standley, Alfonso Foster, Emory Brewer, Bill Loy, John Higgins, Ed Hedrick, Ed Loy, Denny Burke, Bob Montgomery, Curt Battestelli and Danny Wolfe.

Schedule Will Favor Redlegs Over Dodgers

By CHARLES MAHER

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — People who keep looking for the Cincinnati Reds in the obituary columns instead of the won-and-lost columns will be dismayed to learn today that the subject is still more dead than dead.

Even after their 5-2 victory over Los Angeles Tuesday night, the Reds were four games behind the Dodgers in the lost column—and one game back over-all. But if the Reds have no advantage here, they may have one in the remainder of the National League schedule.

After their doubleheader with the Dodgers tonight, the Reds will have only 12 games left on the road and 23 at home. The Dodgers play 27 on the road, only 14 at home.

Even when you take into account that the Dodgers have been more successful abroad than at the Coliseum, the schedule still seems to favor Cincinnati. After tonight the Reds will have 12 games remaining with first-division clubs, the Dodgers 20.

Moreover, the Reds will be idle 10 days during September. This may permit manager Fred Hutchinson to lighten the load on his young pitchers, who have come upon troubled times lately. He could, in fact, use his top three starters almost exclusively.

"I don't really know if the schedule will be a big advantage," Hutchinson said. "We just hope that's the way it works out."

"We're still four games down on the loss side. Those are four games that the Dodgers have got to lose—that we've already lost."

A crowd of 50,000 or more is expected for tonight's doubleheader. Jim O'Toole (11-9) and Bob Purkey (13-9) will start for the Reds, and Johnny Podres (15-3) and Larry Sherry (4-2) will work for the Dodgers.

Tuesday night, righthander Joey Jay recovered brilliantly after a rough start and scored his 17th victory in 24 decisions. The big righthander gave up three hits and two runs in the first inning, then shut out the Dodgers on three hits the rest of the way. He retired 11 straight batters in one span.

Frank Robinson ran his runs-batted-in total to 100 and tied the score with a two-run double in the fifth. Wally Post produced the deciding run with a homer in the sixth.

Jerry Lynch improved his extraordinary pinch-hitting record in the seventh, driving in the fifth Cincinnati run with a double. It was Lynch's 18th hit and 24th RBI in 38 times at bat as a pinch hitter. His pinch hitting average is .474.

Maury Wills opened the Dodger first with a walk and Jim Gilliam followed with a single. Wills scored on a single by Duke Snider and Gilliam came in when Wally Moon also singled.

The Dodgers got only one hit from then until the eighth, when Snider led off with a single and was thrown out trying to make it a double. Two walks and a single by Johnny Roseboro loaded the bases in the same inning, but the threat collapsed when Tom Davis hit into a force play.

Leftlander Sandy Koufax, who hasn't won at home since June 11, pitched six innings for Los Angeles and took the loss. He is 13-8.

Mrs. Pickin's 81 Wins Honors In Ladies' Golf

Mrs. William Pickin, in an outstanding performance, carded a 38-43-81 to win honors in the three hole throw-out event in the ladies golfing Tuesday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

She matched ladies' par of 38 on the first nine holes on her way to the victory.

Mrs. George F. Mueller won low net honors in the three hole throw-out event with a card of 100-100-31-50.

Mrs. Everson Hall and Mrs. Nate Caplan tied for second low net. Mrs. Hall fired 97-69-28-62, while Mrs. Caplan carded 107-11-96-34-62. Mrs. R. V. Beatty finished 109-11-98-34-64.

Mrs. Robert Patterson won the putting prize with 27 putts.

In the second division of the ladies two hole throw-out event, Mrs. J. R. McLaren won low-low with a 53. Mrs. W. E. Dunlap won the low net with 63-8-55-25-30. Mrs. W. E. Dunlap won the putting title with 18 putts.

Tigers Nail Pair, Trail By 2 As White Sox Edge Yankees

Lary Posts 17th; Maris Hits 46th

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

If anyone scratched Detroit from the American League race, forget it. The Tigers look as if they mean to stay close enough to pounce on their first pennant in 16 years in their final two showdown encounters, with the first place New York Yankees.

Fact is, if the bounce-back Tigers can keep it up, it might be the Yankees who are scrambling to get back on top when they meet again Sept. 1-3 at New York and Sept. 15-17 in Detroit.

Anyway you look at it, it's strictly a Tiger-Yank face—with Detroit's Frank Lary pressing Yankee Whitey Ford as the AL's top pitcher, Tiger Norm Cash battling New York Elston Howard for the batting title and Cash, Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline in the running with Yanks Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris for the Most Valuable Player Award.

Those four big men in Detroit's pitch for a pennant kept the Tigers on the prowl with a double-header sweep over Baltimore Tuesday night. Lary won his 17th with a four-hit shutout in a 2-0 first game victory decided by Cash's two-run homer. And Kaline then delivered the payoff single in a three-run ninth that won the nightcap 3-2.

Southpaw Juan Pizarro knocked off the Yankees 2-1, meanwhile, by allowing just four hits, one Maris' 46th home run, as the Chicago White Sox ended Ford's winning streak at 14 games and shaved New York's lead over Detroit to two games.

In the other AL games, Boston banged Cleveland 8-0 with five home runs, the Los Angeles Angels defeated Washington 8-7 and Minnesota cracked Kansas City 9-4.

Lary (17-6) gave up nothing but singles while hanging up his third shutout. He struck out five and walked only two in a double four-hit duel with loser Chuck Estrada (9-7) and Hoyt Wilhelm. Cash, who has a two percentage point lead over Howard in the batting race at .357, settled it by socking his 30th home run, with Colavito on base, in the seventh inning.

The Tigers then battled back from defeat in the nightcap for their sixth success in eight games, coming from behind on four consecutive singles off loser Hec Brown (9-4) and relievers Billy Hoelt and Wes Stock with two out in the ninth. Chico Fernandez started the rally with a one-out double before Reno Bertoia, pinch-hitters Bubba Morton and George Alusik and Kaline singled. It was Alusik's first major league hit. Gerry Staley (2-4) was the winner in relief.

The White Sox handed Ford (20-3) his first defeat since May 29 on Camilo Carreon's two-out, two-run single in the second inning. Pizarro (8-5) struck out 10, twice fanning Mantle (0-for-4), and didn't have any trouble except for Maris' fifth home run in five games in the fifth inning. That broke a tie between Mantle and Maris and sent Roger 14 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927.

SKILLFUL SKIERS. This group of water enthusiasts, gliding along in a pyramid, will be one of the featured acts in the water ski show of the Wellsville Boat Club Aug. 27 at 1 p. m. at the 18th St. docks. Other top acts will include ski jumps by Sue Brewster of Akron, the women's state champion, clowns, barefoot skiing, kite flyer, and salom course. The salom race is open to area skiers. Entries must register by noon at the boat docks the day of the show with Dick Spahr. The entry fee is $1. The salom course is 315-yards long and skiers will maneuver through six buoys in a race against the clock.

Wellsville's 11 To 1 Victor

Wellsville eliminated the Owls Club-Louis-James entry in the City Softball League playoff Tuesday by scoring an 11-1 victory on Floyd Robinson's five-hit pitching.

Wellsville advanced and will meet Gallagher's market tonight at 6:30 in the loser's bracket. East End and American Vittrified Products clash in the winner's bracket Thursday night.

The winner of tonight's game will play the loser of Thursday's game Friday night at Dopier Field.

Robinson, in addition to hurling the win, slammed a homer and singled. Frank Rossi had two hits and Tony Williams a home run. Green was the losing pitcher.

4 Red Sox Home Runs Riddle Cleveland, 8-0

CLEVELAND (AP) — If the Cleveland Indians had any illusions about the power hitting of the Boston Red Sox, it has been completely dispelled.

The Sox, ninth in the American League in home runs, displayed power aplenty Monday night, hitting five home runs on the way to an 8-0 whitewashing of the Indians. The victory also broke a 10-game Boston losing streak on the road.

All five homers came with no one on base.

The shelling started in the second inning when Frank Malzone hit his first of two home runs with nobody on base. It came off Gary Bell, the victim of three more homers in the fifth—by Carroll Hardy, Jackie Jensen and Gene Conley.

Conley limited the Indians to six hits—a double and a single by Johnny Temple, two singles by Jim Piersall and singles by Wood Held and Bubba Phillips.

Bell's four gopher balls raised his season total to 27, threatening Jim Perry's club record of 35 last season.

Bell (8-12) was yanked in the fifth when Boston scored five runs. Bobby Locke replaced him and walked four men in 1-13 innings. One of the passes forced home a run.

Dick Stigman and Bob Allen were the other Cleveland pitchers. Stigman gave up Malzone's second homer.

Conley let two men get on base in only one frame, the fifth, when Temple doubled and Piersall beat out a bunt. But Tito Francona popped for the third out.

Jim Perry (8-10) will hurl tonight as the Indians try to atone for Tuesday night's shelling.

Tracy Stallard (1-1) will handle the pitching chores for Boston.

Yanks' Maris Angry, Missed HR By Inches

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris was an angry man Tuesday night after hitting his 46th homer of the season for the Yankees.

Maris' flow of words did not stem from the homer, which put him one ahead of Mickey Mantle in their tremendous duel with Babe Ruth's 60-homer record the objective. Rather it stemmed from the home run he didn't hit as the Chicago White Sox nipped the Yankees 2-1 behind the fourth hit pitching of Lefty Juan Pizarro.

"It couldn't have been foul by more than this much," growled Maris, holding his hands about three or four inches apart. "It was fair all the way until the final second. Then the darn thing hooked behind the pole."

The near miss occurred in the sixth inning. Roger had walked in the first and socked his 46th homer in the fourth. Then, with a 2-2 count, Maris pole-axed a curve that headed for the third tier. At the last second, as Roger said, the ball hooked foul and the crowd of 49,059 groaned.

"That makes it about five or six near misses I've had this year —that I know of," he complained. "They say those things even up. That's a lot of hogwash. They never do. All I know is they owe me about four because I got two homers this year on drives that hit the foul pole."

As long as he was in the mood, Maris got a few more gripes off his chest.

"Gosh, I'm tired," he complained. "I could use a good rest. This has been a real long season for me. Why don't they go back to the 154-game schedule. Playing 162 games is too tough—much too long."

Laughlin's 2-Hitter Wins For Hookstown

B. McLaughlin of Hookstown defeated Lawrenceville on a two-hitter in South Side Athletic Club's Little League play Tuesday.

Hookstown triumphed, 9-4, as Lawrenceville concluded its season.

McLaughlin fanned 16 batters. B. Mayes was the losing pitcher. McLaughlin also was a spark-plug at the plate for Hookstown in hitting a home run and a single. Danny Michaels homered and singled for Lawrenceville.

LAWRENCEVILLE 000 210 01-4-2-3

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Joey Jay, Reds, shut out first place Dodgers on three singles over last eight innings for 5-2 decision and 17th victory, tops in National League.

Hitting — Frank Malzone, Red Sox, drove in three runs with two homers and three singles in five at-bats in 8-0 victory over Indians.

Clendenning Blanks Foe On 1-Hitter

John Clendenning hurled a one-hitter as First Free Methodist shut out St. John Lutheran, 5-0, to highlight action in the YMCA Church Softball League Tuesday.

He faced 21 batters in going the distance, and fanned five. Harry Cunningham socked a homer, and Bill Wolfe Jr. and Dale Mobley had two hits each for the winners.

Boyce Methodist romped over Penn. Ave. Methodist, 27-9, in a free-scoring game at Smiths Ferry. Ted Seevers hurled the victory.

Leading Boyce at the plate were Augie Comfort, two homers and a single, Bob Swogger, two hits, Chuck Windle, a triple, double and single, Tom Miller, with three hits, and Jim Zubick with a homer and triple and Ralph Stanley with a pair of hits.

First Methodist defeated Calvary Methodist, 7-6. Cannon was the winner, and Bob Fry the loser.

Mike Agnew had two hits for First Methodist, while Jones smashed a two-run double and John Crow, a two-run triple. Fitzjohn socked a two-run homer for the losers.

Salem Joins 'Big 8' Loop

Salem High School's Board of Education voted unanimously this week for official membership in the new Ohio Big 8 Basketball Conference.

The Quakers join East Liverpool, Alliance, Cuyahoga Falls, Massillon, Warren, Canton McKinley and Steubenville Big Red in the powerful field.

Salem expressed interest in joining the league at an organizational meeting in June, but delayed its decision because of the absence of Supt. Paul Smith, who was teaching in Colorado.

Tuesday was the deadline for a school to enter as a charter member of the new conference which begins play on an unofficial basis during the coming basketball season.

133 Draftees Signed

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League announced today that it has signed 133 of the 280 players it had drafted.

Jim Honochick, American League umpire since 1949, was graduated from Temple University in 1940.

Willie MacFarlane, Golfing Great, Dies

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — One of the golfing giants of the Golden Twenties, Willie MacFarlane, is dead at 72.

The Scottish-born professional, who beat Bobby Jones in a double round playoff for the 1925 National Open title, died at his home Tuesday of a heart attack. His widow survives.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE
In case you hear a small charge of dynamite going off and you wonder what happened, don't get excited.

It's one of our local "gun cranks" trying to relive the days of his old great-grandpappy. Actually they are not gun cranks at all, but members of the present day generation who like to shoot the old muzzle loaders like their ancestors did.

Actually, these old weapons are much safer than the modern fire arms, as the "minnie balls" with which they are loaded do not have the power behind them like a 30-06 that could ricochet and kill or injure a mile away from the point of impact. When the "minnie ball" strikes the velocity is spent.

After being fired, the shooter has to wait for the smoke of the black powder to clear and then see if it hit the target.

The target this time of the year is limited to groundhogs, the only legal game in season. This does not rule out vermin. Also many old-time rifle shoots are held from time to time.

THE 1961 law digest of the state hunting and trapping regulations has been distributed to the various license agencies.

I don't know of a better time to study up on the regulations than now. Some changes and additions have been made and it is up to the individual hunter to know when to hunt, how to hunt and the shooting regulations.

St. Joseph's Stripped Of 3rd Place In NCAA

SEATTLE (AP) — The executive committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association has stripped St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia of its third-place ranking in the NCAA Basketball Tournament.

The school also was directed Tuesday to return trophies and medals awarded to it and to individuals on its team.

A regulation which has been in force several years but never was invoked was the basis of the action.

Three of the school's players, involved in basketball gambling scandals, were declared ineligible after the tourney. The regulation on which the committee acted states that if an athlete competes ineligibly, the position of his school in a championship event must be vacated.

Therefore, there is no third-place winner in the national tournament. Utah, which placed fourth, remains in fourth place.

The three players involved were Frank Majewski, Jack Egan and Vince Kempton.

The committee set up a policy aimed at making it more difficult for gamblers to operate in connection with NCAA tournaments. The events are to be held on-campus if possible. If that is not possible, the host school will have complete supervision and management if the event is approved.

The sites of the four regional basketball tournaments were announced. The East regional will be at the University of Maryland, the Midwest at the University of Iowa, the West at Kansas State and the West at Brigham Young University. All will be March 16-17.

The University of Kentucky will host the finals March 23-24.

Steelers, Lions To Clash Tonight
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Steeler fans get their first look tonight at the rebuilt Steelers in an exhibition game against the Detroit Lions at Forbes Field.

Potter Grid Aspirants To Get Gear Thursday
Coach Bob Hedmond will issue football gear to East Liverpool High School varsity candidates Thursday at 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. at Patterson Field.

Candidates must present physical examination cards signed by their parents and physician. Hedmond will send the Potters through their first drill Friday at 9 a. m. and another at 6 p. m.

There will be new faces in the Steeler lineup, both old pros and rookies.

A top attraction will be tackle Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, obtained in a trade with the Baltimore Colts.

Others making their first appearance before the home fans will be center Buzz Nutter, halfback Billy Butler and end Lou Michaels, all obtained in trades.

Among the rookies will be Dick Hoak, former Penn State halfback who ran well in the Steelers' exhibition opener, halfback Red Mack of Notre Dame, linebacker Myron Pottios, also of Notre Dame, and halfback Brady Keys of Colorado State.

All-Star Game Now Set Tuesday

Daniel Wright, secretary, said the game was reset to allow sufficient time for teams to complete their schedules. Two unplayed games are Shippingport and Hookstown and Shippingport and Hanover Township which should determine fourth place between Hookstown and Hanover. Lawrenceville is league champ.

The regular schedule of the Little League ended Tuesday night with Lawrenceville playing Hookstown, Hanover against Frankfort Springs and Shippingport facing Georgetown.

Marshall Ready For Browns Duty

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Jim Marshall, hospitalized two weeks ago with encephalitis, is up and around and will make the trip with the Cleveland Browns when they go west for Sunday's exhibition game against the San Francisco 49ers.

Marshall won't be playing any, however, until he is pronounced fit. It is believed he may be ready before the start of the regular National Football League season.

This good news and the announcement that Duane Putnam, former All-Pro guard, had been obtained from the Dallas Cowboys buoyed spirits here at the Browns' camp.

Coach Paul Brown expects to use Putnam as a replacement for Gene Hickerson, who suffered a broken leg in the Browns' first exhibition game against the Detroit Lions.

Tom Harp, Cornell's new football coach, plans to use the lonely end offense. It was originated by Earl Blaik, Harp's boss when the two coaches were at West Point.

Canton Boy Ineligible For Soap Box Derby

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Canton's representative in the All-American Soap Box Derby in Akron Sunday has been disqualified because he's too old.

Canton derby officials ruled Tuesday that Allen Thomas Pudlowski of Kent reached his 16th birthday before Aug. 1, making him ineligible. Pudlowski said he misunderstood the derby's age rule.

Thomas Phillips, 12, of North Canton, whom Pudlowski defeated in the Canton race, was chosen to represent the city.

Kiwanians Name 2 As Delegates

Delegates to the West Virginia Kiwanis Club convention Sept. 17-19 at Blackwaters Falls were named at a meeting of the Chester club Tuesday night at the City Hall.

They are J. Paul Finley and R. M. McFarland. Raymond Stevens will be alternate.

C. O. Comm reported for the nominating committee for election of officers Aug. 29. Thayer Allison and Stevens were appointed co-chairmen for a family picnic Aug. 29 at the City Park.

W. W. Harper suggested the Kiwanis International magazine back a plan for food companies to prepare Civil Defense survival packets and the club endorsed the proposal.

Discussion was held on the annual public pancake supper slated in the fall. Russell Davis, president, was in charge.

Farm Hit By Fire

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — A quickly spreading fire destroyed a large barn and shed, 150 head of hogs, hundreds of bales of hay and straw and several pieces of farm equipment 2½ miles northwest of here Tuesday.

Thinly-sliced radishes make a fine garnish for sandwiches and salads; they taste good, too.

Walkout Closes Huge Armco Steel Plant

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—A walkout of masonry department employees Tuesday night halted production at Armco Steel Corp.'s huge Ashland plant, idling the company's 3,624 employees.

A company official, describing the walkout as a wildcat strike, said the plant was being closed down because of the picket line. The employees are members of the United Steel Workers Union.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 81-82, normal low 59-64. Warmer Thursday and Friday, continued warm until cooler about Monday. Rainfall will average one-tenth to one-quarter of an inch in possible thundershowers Sunday or Monday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Through Monday temperatures will average near normal with only minor day-to-day fluctuations. Normal high 84, normal low 61. Total rainfall will be generally light and average one-tenth to three-tenths of an inch. Widely scattered thundershowers early in the period and again in the late weekend, occurring primarily in the afternoons and evenings.

The average couple on a motor trip spends about $20 a day.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going with a nice girl for six months. She has been telling everyone we are "serious." Her aunts and cousins already have offered congratulations.

I'm in no financial shape to get married and even if I were I wouldn't pick this girl. She's good company but her family never would fit in with mine and she's a little sloppy.

Her mother took me aside last night and offered me a diamond ring which she said I could have remounted for about $25. She even offered to lend me the money if I needed it.

To be honest with you, I did talk a little about marriage but any dummy should know it's part of the line when a couple goes together for several months. How can I get out of this gracefully? —WANT OUT.

Dear Out: You can forget about the "gracefully" part — it's not possible. The best you can do is get out, and the sooner the better, for her sake. A man who is "in no financial shape" to get married, and wouldn't marry the girl anyway, has no right to take up six months of her time and feed her a line of malarkey just for kicks.

Clearly, you think you're a cut above this girl, but I have news, Brother — you're no red-hot bargain for any girl.

Party Of One

Dear Ann: My husband is an executive in a large company. He thinks nothing of going into a meeting at 5:30 p.m., which means another two hours at least.

The meetings are usually held in the executive board room (where they have a well-stocked liquor cabinet and an ice cube machine) and then they send out for dinner. This means my dinner goes into the garbage can. I've told my husband that the money I waste on food is a crime but he doesn't pay any attention to me.

If he would only give me a phone call and tell me he's eating downtown I'd be satisfied. When he comes home at 8:30 in the evening instead of at 6 of course I'm mad. Who wouldn't be? He then accuses me of being a nagger and not understanding his job.

Why does he do this? What can I do?—MRS. S. R.

Dear Mrs.: Some husbands catch so much heat when they call to say they aren't coming home for dinner that they hate to call. They figure they might as well wait till they get home and catch all of it at once.

The very next time your husband phones to say he won't be home for dinner, be especially sweet and thank him for calling. I'll bet you'll see a vast improvement in his telephone habits.

Delayed Departure

Dear Ann: How can we get rid of a certain couple who stick like corn plaster when the party is over and everyone else goes home? They have a knack for outstaying everyone and I honestly believe they hate to see a bottle that has any liquid left in it.

The old line is, "How about a little night cap?" Then they keep drinking until every drop is gone. If you can suggest a gentle method of getting rid of this pest couple I would be very grateful. —ASLEEP ON MY FEET.

Dear Asleep: Gentle methods won't work. I'm in favor of brass tactics when dealing with crass people.

The next time the human sponges hang around and suggest a nightcap, tell them the party is over but they can take the bottle home with them.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent paint "skin" from forming over the surface of a partly-used can of paint?

A. Close the cover of the can tightly and shake the can well, so that the air remaining in the can will be absorbed by the paint. If you store the can upside down, it will remain tightly sealed. In cases where the paint skin has already formed, the paint should be strained through some muslin or screen wire before using.

Q. How can I clean tinware?

A. Make a paste of powdered whiting and ammonia, olive oil or sweet oil. Dip a rag into this solution, and rub the tin thoroughly. When dry, polish with a soft cloth.

Q. How can I renew the dulled red tiles of a porch or fireplace?

A. Try rubbing these tiles with a cut piece of lemon and a little salt. Then wash with warm, soapy water.

Scouts To Hold Primitive Camp

Plans for a primitive pioneer Boy Scout camp Aug. 25-27 at Camp McKinley near Lisbon were discussed at a meeting of the Cherokee District camping and activities committee Monday night with Phil Garey of Westfield Rd.

All Boy Scout and Explorer units are invited to the session at which camping will be held without tents or modern equipment, and cooking will be done on a patrol basis. A special patch and neckerchief will be presented those attending.

William Rayburn, committee head, introduced new members, Uel Lemasters of Wellsville and Aris Rose of Westfield Rd.

Patches for the Brawnarama Camporee are now available from Robert Gray, district executive. The next meeting will be Sept. 11 at the home of Gray in Chester.

Mayor Asks Controls Of River Wastes

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet today asked City Council to authorize legislation aimed at halting pollution of the Ohio River through careless dumping of bulk liquids such as tar, oil and molasses.

In a letter to Council, the mayor said if the legislation is approved, the administration will keep a check on the riverfront within East Liverpool limits and prosecute any offenders.

East Liverpool's jurisdiction extends to the low water mark, the mayor said, and recalled incidents in June and last year when oil was dumped into the river.

City officials have indications that some of the discharge is coming from bulk terminals along the River Rd., the mayor said.

The mayor's letter to Council said:

"Traffic on the Ohio River, both from industrial firms and pleasure craft, has reached the point where on-the-spot regulation and control becomes mandatory. "The chief source of trouble seems to be the pollution caused by carelessness or indifference on the part of a few offenders.

"State control is vested in the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board. Its nearest field office is in Cuyahoga Falls and inspections this far away are too infrequent to furnish close supervision necessary to prevent the periodic discharge of undesirable pollution.

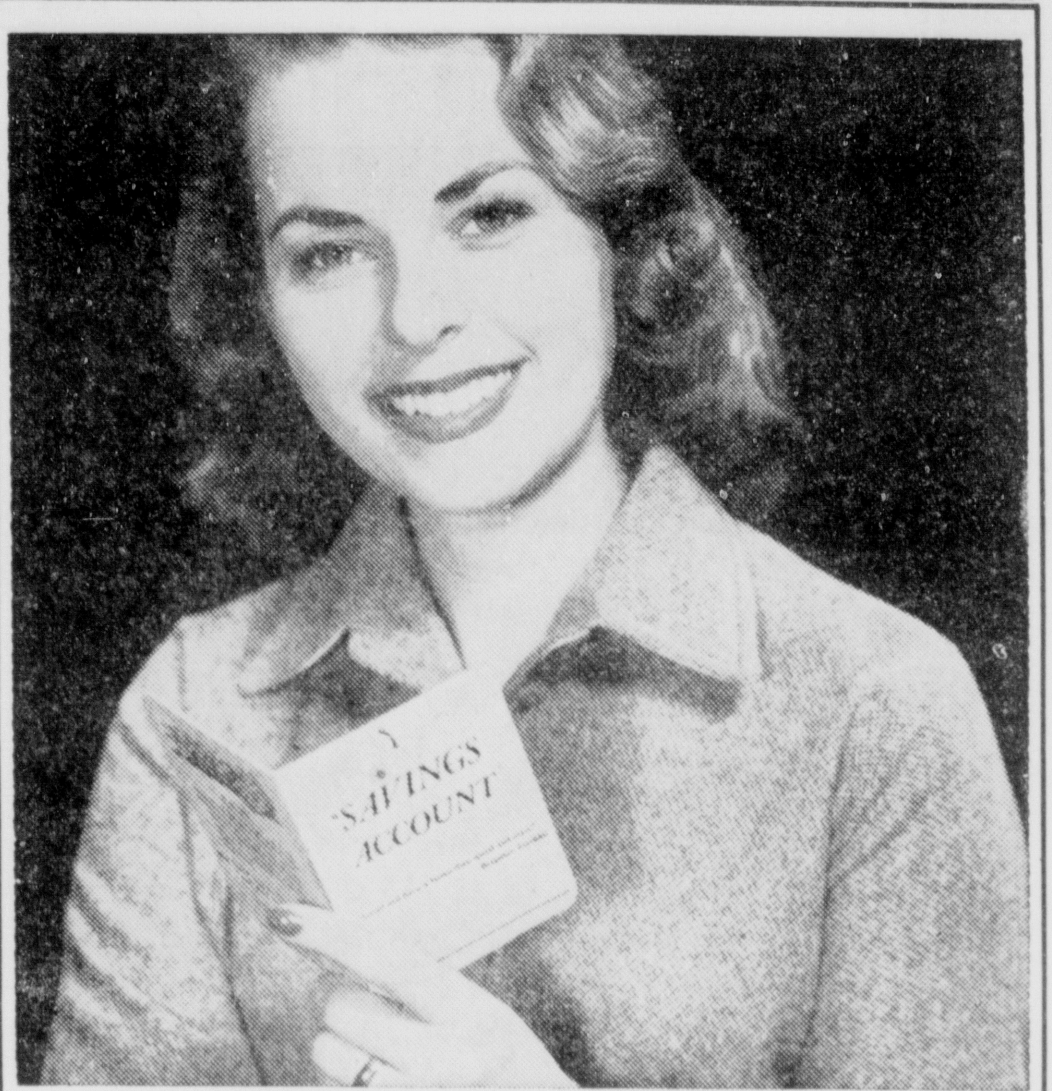

"Since East Liverpool and other cities have spent many millions to help clean up the river, I feel we should do all in our power to help keep it clean.

"I ask, therefore, that Council authorize the solicitor to prepare legislation making it a misdemeanor to discharge or allow to escape into the river any acid, tar, gasoline, oil, asphalt or molasses. The penalty should be set at the maximum allowed by law.

"If such legislation is passed, we will keep a close check on the riverfront and promptly prosecute any offenders."

DAILY NEWSPAPERS SELL DAIRY PRODUCTS FROM PASTURE TO PUBLIC

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY, with sales of $12 billion a year from hundreds of types of products, is a giant of the great food business.

The daily newspaper, another giant, is a dominant influence in helping dairy manufacturers and dairy associations to increase the public's demand for their products. These advertisers use the daily newspaper as a national force to keep the public aware of the innovations and nutritional value of dairy products.

The thousands of local processors and retailers of dairy products use the daily newspaper regularly to move their products from store to home.

The daily newspaper is a vital force in this mass movement of dairy products from the moment they are processed to the moment they are placed on the table. With practically everyone consuming them, it is necessary to move them through the medium that reaches practically everyone. The daily newspaper reaches nationally—and reaches locally—with 58,299,723 news-filled copies every day.

Man In 3-Car Crash Receives Fine Of $25

A Pittsburgh salesman was fined $25 and costs Tuesday in Municipal Court after being convicted of a charge of driving left of center filed by police after a three-car collision Friday afternoon on Dresden Ave.

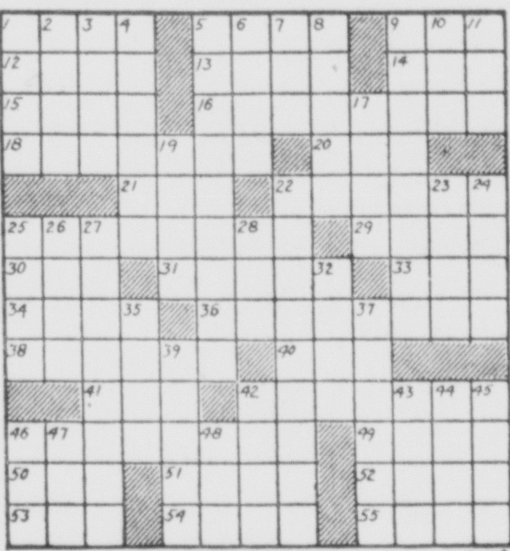

John J. Caputo, 23, was found guilty by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the charge filed by Patrolman E. R. Furgason after his southbound company car struck two northbound autos in the 1000 block on Dresden Ave.

Judge Chertoff suspended the fine on payment of costs totaling $8.50. The normal costs are $7.50 but an additional $1 is charged when not guilty pleas are entered and a trial is held.

Glasses Only Loot

In Oil Office Entry

A box of water glasses apparently was the only loot obtained by a thief who broke a window to gain entrance to the Midway Oil Co. office on the River Rd. after making two unsuccessful attempts to pry open doors, police reported.

The theft was discovered by police at 4:11 a.m. Tuesday when a 6-x-7-foot window on the east side of the building was found broken. The thief previously attempted to force the front and rear doors into the station, officers said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Senators Hit At Violence On TV

Presumably a few senators believe that TV programs of crime, gore and horror do contribute towards juvenile delinquency. Not long ago Sen. Thomas Dodd, chairman of the subcommittee investigating juvenile delinquency, had this subcommittee view what he said was a typical Western, "The Grudge", which had been viewed by some 2,500,000 Americans. It portrayed a whip-wielding widow preparing her son and daughter to avenge her husband, who had been shot dead by a sheriff. The son practices shooting bullets between the eyes of a scarecrow and the daughter tries to lure the law officer to her bedroom. Finally the sheriff wounds the son and mother and accidentally kills the daughter.

Dr. Garry Meyers

University of Maryland, testified that American experts are uncertain about the effect of crime and brutality on TV. "Show us the proof," say the broadcasting officials. But when these same officials boast about the few good programs they offer, they don't ask for proof. If we are going to assume that nothing on TV can do a child any moral harm, why do we assume that anything he sees or hears can do him any moral good? Or if the good a child is exposed to can make him better, why can't the evil he is exposed to make him worse? Shall we quit having our children go to Sunday school or church till we get proof it will do them any good? A reprint, "Our Children, TV and the Church," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Loan Firm Officials Finish Study Course

Two East Liverpool savings and loan executives have completed this year's study at the Ohio Savings and Loan Academy at Granville. They are James H. Allison Jr., assistant secretary of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, and James E. Laughlin, loan manager of the Wellsville office of the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association. Laughlin has completed the three-year course on financial institutions and will be graduated at the league's annual convention in Cleveland in October. Allison completed his second year and will be graduated next year. The school is sponsored by the Ohio Savings and Loan League in conjunction with New York University. The fiery uses its chemical energy to produce light.

Also before Sen. Dodd's subcommittee were reported the results of a survey during the week of May 9th, when 34 of the programs between 4 and 10 p.m. were devoted to violence. Seven years ago the figures were 22.

BEFORE THE SAME subcommittee, Dr. Peter J. Lejins, Uni-

Leap Made By Intruder

A 21-year-old Beechwood resident, who leaped through a second-floor window of a Woodlawn Ave. apartment after being discovered by the occupant, was treated late Monday night at City Hospital for injuries suffered in the 13-foot jump.

Ronald Davis, 21, suffered multiple contusions and abrasions. Police said Davis has no permanent address but the hospital said he resided with a sister at 241 Haywood St.

Patrolmen Orin Smith and L. K. Garvey said they still are investigating the circumstances surrounding Davis' jump from the window of the apartment of John Carter, 762 Woodlawn Ave.

The officers said they found Davis lying on a sidewalk, complaining of back and right leg pains, after they were alerted by a call from William Maxey of the Woodlawn Ave. address.

Davis appeared to have been drinking and refused to make a statement, the officers said.

The two patrolmen were told by Carter that he was listening to a ball game in his third-floor apartment when he heard someone enter his second-floor apartment. When the person didn't come up to the third floor, Carter said he went to investigate.

Carter told police he found Davis sitting in a chair in his darkened kitchen and was asked if he had lost something. Carter said he told Davis that he should be the one asking the questions.

Davis replied, "Don't you want me here?" and leaped through the window before he could reply, Carter told officers.

Davis landed on a roof four feet below the window and then rolled from the roof to the sidewalk nine feet below, police said.

Many housekeepers like to do their breakfast dishes right after breakfast and then give the kitchen and dining room (or area) a quick cleanup so that when it's time to prepare lunch this space will be in order.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Is there any way to renovate old flower pots that have picked up ugly splashes and streaks over the years?

A. Sometimes an overnight soaking in plain water, plus a thorough scrubbing with a stiff brush are all that is needed to bring these containers back to respectability.

Q. How can I remove grease spots from white and fast-color materials?

A. Saturate the spots with benzine, place a blotter on both sides of the material, and apply a hot iron to the upper surface for several minutes.

Q. How can I speed up the starting of my two-cycle rotary lawn mower?

A. Remove the spark plug and squirt some lighter fluid into the cylinder. Then replace the plug, and your engine should respond easily.

It's a good idea to use tomatoes that are almost ripe when you are pan-frying them.

Contracts Let At Wellsville

Contracts for a new truck for the Wellsville water department and a new double garage of the sewage disposal plant were awarded Tuesday by the Board of Control.

The Wimmer Motor Sales of East Liverpool was awarded a $2,924 contract for supply of a 1962 truck, replacing one burned last year.

Wells Motor Co. of Wellsville submitted a bid of $2,731 for a 1961 truck, but the specifications call for a 1962 model. Safety - Service Director William Robinson reported. The Ideal Chevrolet Co. of Wellsville submitted a bid of $2,995.

Delivery is expected in 30 to 45 days, Robinson said.

Clarence E. Thompson of Hillcrest Rd. was given the contract for construction of the garage, a 21-x-24-foot concrete block structure, at a cost of $2,384.

John H. McCauley of Wellsville R. D. 1 submitted the only other bid for $2,614.

Construction is to begin immediately, Robinson said.

more people are choosing

GAS AIR CONDITIONING

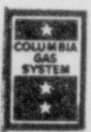

for their homes. Most everyone heats with GAS and is familiar with its economies and performance. So, when people learn about economical, complete-home, GAS air conditioning, they want it!

Every room in your home can be cool, regardless of simmering summer temperatures. You can sleep comfortably... cook and bake in relaxed coolness... have fresh, cool air throughout the house for comfort and health. Comes winter and your GAS cooling system readily converts to heating... filtered, fresh-air GAS heating that keeps the whole house snug and clean for your comfort.

You can have a GAS add-on central air conditioning unit installed in your present forced air heating system, probably using the existing furnace ductwork for cooling. In either case, whole-house GAS air conditioning costs less than you might think.

If you are planning to buy or build a new home or to remodel your present home, find out about GAS air conditioning. The installation costs of a central GAS heating-cooling system can be financed through the Gas Company, and you can make the payments right along with your regular gas bill. Call your Gas Company for full information.
